Miceli rebuffs challenger despite anti-incumbent mood

by Arlene Surprenant
Change was in the air Tuesday at the state level but not in the local primary race as State Rep. James Miceli defeated Democratic opponent Rocco DePasquale by a wide margin for the 20th Middlesex District Democratic nomination. DePasquale, a respected businessman and former selectman, lost in all four Wilmington precincts he hoped to represent. When the votes were tallied, DePasquale lost by 263 votes in Wilmington and 1,613 votes in Tewksbury. Kevin Sowyrda, who ran unopposed for the same seat on the Republican ticket, garnered a respectable 688 votes in Wilmington and 1,629 votes in Tewksbury.

A jubilant Miceli attributed his win to "a wonderful, wonderful outpouring of support" from voters in both towns, volunteers who came out in record numbers to help throughout the campaign, and the organizational ability of his two campaign managers, Scott Millins and Debbie Maxwell. In looking ahead to November's election, the 13 year veteran said "we will continue to talk about the issues as we have been doing all along and just look for the same voter support we had in the primary."

Though he felt he put up "a good fight," DePasquale conceded Miceli's "well-organized effort" went far to lessen his chances of unseating the incumbent.

"I have to congratulate Jim Miceli on getting his vote out," DePasquale said Wednesday. At the same time, the restaurateur questioned why voters would support Miceli, who was endorsed by the Citizens for Limited Taxation, when the CLT's tax rollback proposal (Question Three) could prove "devastating" for the 20th Middlesex District.

"I'm really concerned. I don't think Jim Miceli is a strong leader; his is not going to be a voice that is going to be heard (in the near future)," he said.

When asked what advice he would give to Sowyrda, who still faces an uphill battle against the incumbent in November, DePasquale urged him "to run strong and hard and force Miceli on the issues."

Sowyrda tipped his hat to DePasquale, calling him a "respected pillar of the community."

"I think Rocco DePasquale was an excellent candidate who ran a campaign that exhibited not only his integrity but his strong, consistent values for Wilmington and Tewksbury," Sowyrda said.

The political newcomer also issued a strong message to his Democratic opponent.

"These old time incumbent politicians, like the assistant majority leader, who think it's their blood right to be a lifetime politician will find that September 18 was only a prelude to the tidal wave coming November 6," Sowyrda said, adding "Jim Miceli's insatiable appetite to spend taxpayer's money and then let others do his dirty work by voting for outrageous taxes make him a prime target for the beleaguered taxpayer."

In other races, Wilmington voters helped put gubernatorial candidates William Weld (R) and John Silber (D) on the ballot for November's election; they voted in Scott Harshbarger (D) and voted out incumbent James Shannon (D) for attorney general; they gave the nod to Marjorie Clapprood (D) and Paul Cellucci (R) for lieutenant governor; and helped Sandra Trainor (D) and Nick O'Brien (R) defeat opponents for a chance to be state rep. of the 21st Middlesex District. Augusto Grace (D) and Marianne Brenton (R) ran unopposed for state rep. of the 23rd Middlesex District and will face each other in November.

Overall, more than 50 percent of Wilmington's registered voters, including an uncounted number of independents, flocked to the polls Tuesday to express dissatisfaction with state incumbents and the recent downhill slide in Massachusetts' fortunes. Town Clerk Patty Ward attributed the "excellent" voter turnout to hot races for Miceli's seat and that of governor of Massachusetts. Normally, only 28 to 30 percent of registered voters vote in a primary, said Ward. According to several volunteer workers at the polls, there was a steady stream of people throughout the day, especially in the early morning hours.

Finalists interviewed for principal's post

by Arlene Surprenant

The three finalists in line for the position of Shawshen School principal answered questions and reviewed their educational backgrounds during interviews conducted by the Wilmington School Committee last week. The candidates — Douglas Anderson, Richard Gorham, and Maureen O'Hara — were each selected by a special screening committee. Former principal Robert Coffill left in August to assume the principalship of Lebanon High School in New Hampshire.

Anderson is currently a sixth grade teacher at the West Intermediate but told the board he had administrative experience at all levels in the system. Among other positions held, Anderson has been assistant principal at the West and Shawshen Schools, systemwide coordinator of the K-8 gifted and talented program, and girls' varsity volleyball and basketball coach.

Gorham is a computer science instructor in the Wilmington system. His experience includes being principal of the old Glen Road School and Central Elementary District, assistant principal and later principal at the Woburn Street School, and teacher of computer education at the intermediate schools.

O'Hara is a third grade teacher at the Wildwood School. Her background includes work with learning disabled children and jobs as inservice instructor and a resource room teacher.

While Gorham already holds his certification as an elementary principal, Anderson does not have his actual certification though he has completed all required coursework for it. O'Hara said she would complete her certification courses in the spring. Both Anderson and Gorham hold a Masters of Education degree while O'Hara has a CAGS in computer education and a Master's degree in elementary education.

School board members asked questions on such things as each candidate's discipline philosophy, professional development, how the candidates would keep up the level of excellence begun by Coffill, and how each would prepare students for the future.

Committeemen said they welcomed input from Shawshen parents on the appointment. The board is expected to meet tonight to vote on a recommendation by Supt. William Fay to see who is the best candidate for the job.

Voting machine mix-up causes delay at polls

Primary day 1990 is one that Town Clerk Patty Ward will not soon forget.

The polls had been open for about an hour when someone noticed that the voting machines for precincts three and six had the wrong candidates.

The machines had been loaded improperly. When the strips naming the candidates were inserted, there was a switch.

Mrs. Ward said that workers had not noticed the switch because paper samples were not sent along with the strips to be inserted in the machines.

The switch meant that the candidates for state representative in the 21st and 23rd Middlesex districts were mixed up. Precinct 3 votes with the 23rd district, which also includes Burlington and Bedford. In that district, neither the Republican nor the Democratic candidate had a challenger.

In the 21st district, however, there were four candidates on the Democratic side, and two seeking the Republican nomination. Precinct 6 is part of that district, along with Reading and North Reading.

The switch was confusing to many voters, as Precinct 3 had been part of the 21st district until the state was redistricted a couple of years ago.

When the mistake was discovered about 8 a.m., the machines for the two precincts were shut down for the correction. Voters arriving in the meantime were given paper ballots.

The counting of those paper ballots delayed the announcing of the results that evening.

Each of the 130 persons who had voted on the switched machines was called, and offered the chance to cast a corrected vote. One 35 voters chose to do so.

"Most people were great... very appreciative that we took the time to call," said Mrs. Ward.

She said that the votes that were counted were the ones on the machines. The figures from the paper ballots were put aside and were to be counted only if the race had been close. If any race had been contested, it could have become a case where a new election would have been called.

As there was no contest in either of the ballots in the 23rd, it did not make any difference.

In the 21st, Democrat Sandra Trainor outpaced her nearest rival, 237 to 148 in Wilmington, with a 1400 vote margin over her nearest rival.

On the Republican side, however, Rob Krekorian and Nick O'Brien were only one vote apart in Wilmington, 140 and 141. In the district, however, Krekorian topped O'Brien 3327 to 2049.

Truck exclusion issue revived

Wilmington selectmen will take up an issue on Monday night which some people had considered to be long-resolved: At issue is a sign directing trucks driving eastbound on Salem Street to turn left and drive past the North Intermediate School.

The sign was posted last year on the request of Salem Street residents led by Tony Capuano, who sought to eliminate heavy trucking from the street, which connects Wilmington and Tewksbury.

Wilmington selectmen had earlier posted the street for no heavy trucking, but had to remove the signs after Tewksbury selectmen balked at the restriction.

The Salem Street residents came back then with a request to restrict trucking from streets leading to Salem Street. The result effectively blocks trucks from Salem Street.

Trucks cannot drive along the portion of Middlesex Avenue between Route 62 and Salem Street.

Westbound trucks cannot drive along the portion of Ballardvale Street and Salem Street adjacent to the North Intermediate School.

The opposite direction of that stretch of road, between Middlesex Avenue and Route 125, is designated for eastbound trucks which may have come down Salem Street from Tewksbury.

According to Capuano, the state has approved the restriction, and everything is legal. He said the restriction is working.

Wilmington officials, though, have a concern. In the event of an accident by the North Intermediate School, Police Chief Bobby Stewart is afraid that the town would have a tremendous liability, having posted a sign that directed the truck to go past the school.

Safety Officer Bob Shelley is to discuss the matter with selectmen at their meeting on Monday night. Capuano will certainly be there, too.

Friends stunned by Wakefield tragedy

A triple fatality in Wakefield early Sunday left people in Wilmington and Tewksbury stunned and grief-stricken.

The accident occurred when a Camaro collided at high speed with a limosine. Both drivers were killed, along with a passenger in the limo.

Kevin O'Brien of Tewksbury, the driver of the limo, was pronounced dead at Atlantic Care in Lynn.

Also killed was Cheryl Winchell of Wakefield, a passenger in the limo, and the driver of the Camaro, 15-year-old William Hancock of Wakefield.

Seriously injured was Mark Winchell, husband of Cheryl. They had been celebrating their anniversary. Mark Winchell was taken to Boston City Hospital with back and internal injuries. At last report, he is in serious condition.

Mark Winchell's brother Steven and his wife Denise, residents of Billerica, were less seriously injured.

The Winchell brothers are natives of Lawrence Street, Wilmington.

Kevin O'Brien, 26, had been a popular athlete in his years at Tewksbury Memorial High School. He was the son of Joan O'Brien of Chandler Street, and had three brothers and a sister. He was employed as a computer analyst at Data Marketing Corp. of Bedford.

The accident took place at 12:23 a.m. Sunday on Main Street in Wakefield. According to other media reports, the Camaro had been spotted and briefly pursued by Wakefield police. An order was reportedly radioed to cease the pursuit just before the accident occurred. Police allegedly found several beer bottles and six-pack holders in the Camaro.

New health facility

Occupational health center holds opening ceremonies

The New England Occupational Health Center, at 66B Concord Street, Wilmington was opened for business on September 12. Ribbon cutting ceremonies were offered by the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce, coincidentally, with an open house.

A 7500 square foot facility with a pleasant environment it is the largest occupational health center north of Boston. It offers the latest in diagnostic equipment, including x-ray facilities, lab and state-of-the-art computerized back testing. There is a comfortable waiting area, and ample free parking.

A New England Memorial Hospital affiliate, Rehabilitation Concepts, offers on-site physical therapy, occupational therapy, and an innovative work hardening program designed to facilitate the return to work of an injured worker. Rehabilitation Concepts is currently accepting workers compensation and commercial insurance. Charles L. Rollinger, MD, MPH, is medical director of Rehabilitation Concepts. He is also the medical director for Agfa Compugraphic Division in Wilmington.

Health stop is a division of Wellesley Medical Management, Inc. It offers a full range of occupational health services including pre-employment physicals, NIDA drug testing and walk-in treatment for acute injuries and illnesses. William B. Patterson, MD, MPH, is the director of Health Stop's Occupational Health Services. Dr. Patterson also provides occupational consulting services to business and government agencies.

Rehabilitation Concepts and Health Stop also offer wellness programs to business and industry. The programs will include stress management, blood pressure and cholesterol screenings, health-risk appraisals and nutritional counseling.

Compromise reached on Andover Heights subdivision

by Arlene Surprenant
An amended Certificate of Approval for the Andover Heights subdivision definitive plan was voted by the Wilmington Planning Board September 4 and subsequently filed with the town clerk, freeing up approximately $200,000 for the town in accordance with an agreement between Wilmington officials and landowner Al Fiorenza.

The 59-lot subdivision is being built off Andover Street. Fiorenza had told Wilmington selectmen he would donate the money to the town once the planning board approved his definitive plan. That approval came last May. However, Fiorenza took exception to some of the conditions set by the board and had his lawyer John Bradley, of Bradley, Barry, and Tarlow, file a complaint in Middlesex Superior Court.

In an August 31 letter to the board, Town Counsel Alan Altman advised members he had reached an acceptable compromise with Fiorenza and the complaint had been dismissed with prejudice. As part of the compromise, agreed to by the planning board, Fiorenza now has five years instead of two to complete the subdivision. In addition, board members agreed to delete a condition which would have allowed them to hold 10 percent of the bond after the road was complete as a maintenance guarantee. The board also agreed to less stringent measures in the event of a transfer of ownership of any of the lots and covering release of surety.

Bradley told Altman once the amended certificate is recorded with the town clerk and the appeal time elapses, the money would be released to the town.

WHY HIRE YOUR CHILD

Does it make sense to put your youngster on the payroll of the family's unincorporated business? There may be real dollars-and-cents gains, in addition to emotional benefits which come from the close working relationship.

Although the business deducts the cost in a high bracket, the child can usually report it in a low bracket. The earnings may enable Junior to make deductible IRA or Keogh contributions.

But it's not all gravy without responsibilities. There are certain provisos to be met. The family member is expected actually to perform a job. The firm must pay all applicable employment taxes and cover the family member with the same benefits available to all other employees.

It's probably too expensive to put Junior on the payroll just as a substitute for paying an allowance. But if you're going to hire someone to do a job anyway, and your child can do it, why not keep the money in the family?

When it comes to taxing questions, come to us...

Board seizes bond for unfinished road

by Arlene Surprenant
With the Tracy Circle subdivision off Woburn Street still incomplete, members of the Wilmington Planning Board took action Tuesday to seize the bond put up by developers John Stokes and Jeffrey Witmeyer of J and J Realty Trust. Town Engineer Harold Gillam said he and DPW Supt. Bob Palmer will now be working out estimates for the remaining work to be done in the seven lot subdivision. Some of the work may be done by the town, he said, and the rest would go out to bid.

The homes in the subdivision have already been sold. However, homeowners complained because the roadway and sidewalks were never put in and drainage problems have developed they are having a hard time landscaping their properties. After extending the deadline for the developers twice and waiting further, the board decided to move ahead to take the bond and complete the job. At Tuesday's meeting, Stokes sought more time to finish the road but the board said it was unlikely they would reverse their decision.

Neighbors in attendance asked how long it would take before the town gets the work done. Chairman Dave Clark assured residents the town would at least get the topcoat put in to resolve drainage problems before the winter freeze. He said though they would try to complete sidewalks and landscaping, that would most likely wait until spring, when the job should be complete. One neighbor concerned with ponding at the end of her driveway was told the town would at least relieve that inconvenience before winter.

Parcel transferred for affordable home

by Arlene Surprenant
At their last meeting, the Wilmington Housing Authority voted to turn over an approximate two acre parcel of land on Houghton Road to the non-profit Wilmington Community Development Corporation for the building of an affordable home. The WCDC has been seeking town land to build a second low cost home for the town following the successful completion of a house on Everett Avenue. The parcel, which reportedly contains alot of wetlands, was sold to the housing authority for one dollar following a vote of town meeting to turn it over to the authority for a home for autistic children. The parcel was one of two turned over to the WHA for the same purpose. The Houghton Road site was never used.

There was some uncertainty on the part of one or two members whether the corporation would have to go back to town meeting to make the transfer legal.

Athletes sought for Hall of Fame

by Arlene Surprenant
The last day nominees will be accepted for induction into Wilmington High's new Athletic Hall of Fame will be Sunday, September 30. Anyone wishing to nominate an outstanding Wilmington athlete, coach, or benefactor for consideration by the screening committee should submit his or her choice as soon as possible. School committeeman Aldo Cairi is spearheading the effort to create the hall of fame at the school.

In order to be eligible for consideration, athletes must be graduated from Wilmington High for ten years and have demonstrated athletic prowess in vascity sports as well as integrity, sportsmanship, and character. Coaches being considered must have been a coach for at least five years and have displayed leadership and competency in their sport.

The first Induction Dinner for the successful candidates will be held Saturday, October 27 at 7:30 p.m. at the Wilmington Sons of Italy Hall. Tickets will go on sale for $25 per person.

news briefs

Conservation secretary

Tewksbury Conservation needs a back-up secretary, and applications are being accepted until Tuesday, September 25. Interested parties should apply in writing to the Tewksbury Conservation Commission, 999 Whipple Road, 01876.

Water meter readers

Beginning Tues., Sept. 4 the Tewksbury Water Department has begun to read the outside registers for the first half water/sewer bills. The Water Department anticipates that this reading program will take between six and eight weeks to complete.

Meter readers will have photo id's in their possession if it should be necessary for them to enter your home to correct malfunctioning meters or registers.

If you should have any questions concerning the meter reading program, call the Water Dept. at 851-2351 between the hours of 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

New gas line

The Tennessee Gas Company has begun work on their ambitious project to replace their present gas line with a larger size line in Wilmington. Work will affect neighborhoods in the Lowell Street, Chestnut Street, Butters Row, and Marion Street Extension areas.

ICI Resins

ICI Resins has received its order of conditions from the Wilmington Conservation Commission to remove storage tanks from an old tank farm on the Main Street property. The firm has also reportedly finished their sewer project to tie-in to the town sewer and is readying an application to prepare a site for a new wastewater treatment plant. Conservation Commissioners will learn more about the latter project at their October 10 meeting.

Fincom chairman

Paul Palizola has been chosen as the new chairman of the Wilmington Finance Committee. He replaces Neil Waisnor, who stepped down after five years, hoping to spend more time with his family.

Correction

In last week's issue, it was incorrectly reported that Reading, Melrose and Wakefield do not have gates at their railroad crossings. In fact, they do have gates and flashing lights and few if any train whistles are sounded at these crossings.

In speaking to selectmen last week, Wilmington resident Michael Kropowsky made the point that though Wilmington has gates at some crossings, train whistles still sound throughout town.

No cause for celebration

by Bill Conlon

Tewksbury appeals board member Patricia DiBiase was ousted from office, followed by veteran appeals member Bruce Gordon, after lengthy dismissal hearings by the board of selectmen.

There was no applause after the selectmen's votes to oust the pair, and rightly so. Dismissal from public office is no cause for joy. The public drama of a dismissal hearing is an embarrassment, and everybody knew that.

Some "establishment" town officials are currently howling about all the money being spent on the trials, money which the town can hardly afford, and ugly terms like "kangaroo court" and "frontier justice" have been heard.

However, the whole dismissal process could have been avoided. Pride is the sole reason for this public mess, and terrible expense. If the appeals members had accepted the findings of the selectmen's subcommittee, and simply quit right then and there, these hearings could have been avoided.

All four board members came under the gun last year, after the selectmen's subcommittee found that a majority of zoning board of appeals variances granted in the 1989 study period were granted in alleged violation of state and town law. One acre means one house, period. That is written in the laws of Tewksbury, but the board of appeals gave permission to ignore that law, frequently. The selectmen's subcommittee stated that, not just the media.

Perhaps, as Mrs. DiBiase testified, she was simply following past practices of the board. (Arguable.) Perhaps she was not "clear" on the applicable laws, and it was she noted that she isn't a lawyer. (Again, arguable.) None of that matters now. Gordon likewise was vague on the requirements that must be met to grant a variance. Ignorance of the law was never an excuse before, and it isn't now.

Nobody likes to admit they made a mistake. The subcommittee findings made it clear that the board of appeals had made mistakes, plenty of them. Those findings should have been adequate warning about the selectmen's current course of action.

Appeals members could have cleared their reputations easily, with letters of resignation. The letters could have stated something to the effect that, "We thought we were right, you disagree, we're sorry and we quit," or in an angry spirit of "You never trained us, we've worked hard, and now you tell us we're wrong. Go to hell!" None of the four chose that route. Now two of them are gone, after embarrassing and controversial public hearings, and two more hearings are left.

There was plenty of warning about the outcome of these public dismissal hearings, from the subcommittee finding to the citizen's pickets to the unfavorable attention in the newspapers. In fact, this newspaper put the appeals board up the flagpole three years ago for the incredible number of variances they were issuing, but with no effect. A 1987 letter from Town Counsel Charles Zaroulis to the appeals board gave quiet warning about legal issues. There was plenty of warning, none of it heeded.

The dismissal process has not been easy on anybody, least of all the appeals members. This kind of public attention hurts the town, the cost is unpleasant, and it's embarrassing for the appeals board members themselves, who are nice people overall. How can it not? Imagine yourself in their shoes, testifying in your own defense, in the glare of the TV cameras.

And to think it could have been avoided ... pride alone is costing the town heavily, in money and in spirit.

But there are two hearings left. J. Peter Downing and Charles Stella will have their hearings in November. Much will be said in the two hearings, but the outcome seems clear enough. A precedent was set with the first two hearings, which ended in firings.

As Selectman Chairman Bill Hurton said shortly before the vote to dismiss her, Patricia DiBiase is a "class person and a nice lady." True enough. And it's a pity she chose to undergo the humiliation of a public removal hearing, instead of the quieter embarrassment of a letter of resignation admitting she might have been wrong.

And to think that all this effort is being spent to maintain seats on an unpaid town board...

Frankly speaking

by Paul H. Sullivan

Well, it's award time, now that the primary is over. I want to give out a few awards.

The best TV advertisement: Scott Harshbarger, with the mother of Sarah Pryor.

Second place: Marjorie Clapprood's "Watch it, boys" commercial.

The worst television ad: The Bill Golden factory ads.

The best idea of the campaign: To let John Silber be John Silber.

Worst idea: For Nick Paleologos to forego television advertisement and send out 50,000 video cassettes to likely voters.

The candidate who grew the most in the campaign: George Spartichino, candidate for DA.

The candidate who shrunk the most in the campaign: Sen. Richard Kraus, a candidate for state treasurer, who started off as a service reform candidate and turned out to be just an "also-ran."

The biggest joke of the campaign: Frank Bellotti, the criticizer.

The cheapest shot: Silber calling Bellotti corrupt.

Most over-used phrase: "I am going to bring reform to the system."

Newest political word: "Systematic."

Oldest political word: "Committed."

The worst thing that happened: More than half of the voters eligible to vote didn't.

The best thing that happened: A lot of "Outs" are In and a lot of "Ins" are Out.

The most despicable local ad: Roccas anti-development ad, depicting home rule bills as special interest of Miceli.

Slickest political literature: Rocco's door hangers.

Most over-rated political pundit Jay — ah, never mind. I've picked on him enough.

Most intelligent political pundit: Me.

Political liability of the 1990 election: Gordon Nelson former Republican state committee chairman. He brought Bill Weld from front-runner to almost political extinction until he decided to endorse Steve Pierce, who up until that time was unbeatable. Luckily for Weld, the Nelson endorsement came just in a nick of time to wipe out Pierce's almost insurmountable lead.

letters to the editor

Dear Larz:

Last Tuesday night, Neil Waisnor, chairman of the Wilmington Finance Committee for over two years, resigned after serving over five years on that board. The Town of Wilmington has lost the services of a bright, hard-working, dedicated and objective volunteer who wanted nothing more than to make sure that the taxpayers of Wilmington weren't getting a bum steer.

Neil decided he has spent enough time away from home attending meeting after meeting. I remember what a time commitment it is serving on the Finance Committee - meeting three to four nights a week during the cold winter months reviewing the town budget item by item. Some nights, when it was difficult to get away from the office on time, you ended up going directly from work to the Town Hall.

Neil's wife, Leslie, and their two sons, Matthew and Christopher deserve better. I know the feeling. Try explaining to your four year old why Daddy hasn't been home much lately. They just don't understand, and believe me, there are times when you don't understand either.

But still, Neil continued to serve his community. In April 1989, Neil compared being on the Finance Committee to constantly beating his head against the wall. It's frustrating spending all that time developing budget recommendations, only to have Town Meeting ignore or reject them time after time.

But, I know, serving the community does have its benefits. The feeling of satisfaction and pride you get from volunteering your time and expertise is the biggest. It is also satisfying to have strangers stop you around town and comment on the work you are doing. Serving your community provides you the opportunity to meet new people and make new friends. Having served with Neil on the Finance Committee and working with him during my tenure on the School Committee, I've made a new friend.

And now, Neil returns to Leslie, Matthew and Christopher. Sure, the town will survive, and the Finance Committee will survive, but still, Wilmington needs more talented, caring people like Neil to take an interest in town affairs.

In the meantime... Matthew!! Christopher!!, Daddy's home!!

Dear Larz:

I would personally like to thank all the state representative candidates for their interest and concern in the elderly at Somerset Nursing Home in Reading. Last Sunday all the candidates toured, greeted, spoke to and shook hands with many of the residents and family members of Somerset Nursing Home. The candidates took precious time from their campaigns and demonstrated their commitment to the elderly of this district.

The residents had a wonderful time. They felt a part of the world that affects them so greatly. The hand shakes made all of them feel very, very special. The smiles and the jokes passed between candidates and residents was a pleasant sight to see.

I also want to thank all of Somerset Nursing Home's staff who went well out of their way. The staff really cares about the people they take care of and Sunday they truly gave their all. I am very proud to work with such a good group of dedicated people.

Thank you,

Dear Larz:

I was quite surprised to learn the salary of Superintendent Fay when reading the Town Crier of September 5, 1990. My husband said, "Do you realize he makes more money than the Governor of Massachusetts?" I didn't know that. Then he said, "He also makes more than the Town Manager of Wilmington," I wonder why.

I think we still live in a considerably small town (not a city), and what does the superintendent do to deserve the exorbitant salary that he is paid? And why can't he pay his life and disability insurance out of his own pocket?

I think it's about time the School Committee learned to say, "No we can't afford any more."

Sincerely,
A Wilmington resident
Name withheld by request
P.S. This letter has been laying on my table for a week, but after reading the September 12, 1990 Town Crier, a similar letter to the editor encouraged me to mail mine.

Dear Larz:

Here ye, here ye, the People's Forum is now in session. On the defense is this writer responding to points made by Selectman Mark Haldane with the reader taking on the role of judge and jury.

First on the docket, Mr. Haldane has asked the Town Crier be more restrictive in publishing "tabloidesque" letters. The opened letters page in any newspaper is a vehicle for which one may state opinions and criticism. Sometimes an opinion may be written with humor and satire as is with syndicated columnists Art Buchwald and Mark Russell. My letters as well as Fred Stone's follow that style of writing while addressing issues that are most relevant. This abstract form of expression evades many if not most. At any rate, I shall be heard whether you think it's a waste of ink or not. This matter: resolved.

Second, your apologetic in defense of Citizens for Limited Taxation is convoluted. In a recent letter, I stated that many of those homeless whom I have seen in Boston almost every week are mentally incompetent to care for themselves and ought to therefore be institutionalized, but to do that would require millions more each year. Haldane said that if, "people are allowed to keep their own money, they will be able to support their families and freely give to those less fortunate." That's sticky sweet bull. Our society has an obligation to help those who can't help themselves and support for those less fortunate oughtn't be left to the whims of charity.

For the purpose of clarity, I should mention that Mr. Haldane's reference to those "less fortunate" was in response to my statements in a recent letter of mine about the homeless. Shame on CLT when good social programs are scuttled, but "So long as I've got mine": is the popular sentiment of anti-taxers.

Third, Mr. Haldane implied that I was attacking him for his religious convictions. Not at all. I do question, however, his alliance with the Congregational Church of Wilmington who endorsed his candidacy for selectman last April when he was allowed to print his campaign pitch in their newsletter as well as tacking his campaign signs on the church's front lawn election day.

I've written about this before, but you have chosen not to respond even though you have responded to every other point I've made. Curious. Me thinks this soundeth sleazy and thou art embarrassed by it. In respect to you, if you choose to respond, I shall leave this matter unresolved.

As a footnote, I would like to congratulate Mike Cairra for securing the town manager's position for keeps, thus proving that it pays to be connected with a Tammany Hall like machine.

I rest my case.
"I'm an underachiever and proud of it."

Silent service

by George A. Allan

Each morning it is there for your morning coffee or shower. No fanfare or glitzy commercials herald its arrival. You can thank your municipal water department that silently delivers a product that is critical to the health, safety and economy of the community.

Historically, water departments have intentionally kept a low profile. Times have changed; we now have a more open society. The story of water needs to be told.

When you open that tap in your sink, the water that splashes out has completed a journey that began in the sand and gravel aquifers that underlie the town. In Wilmington, the groundwater is withdrawn from seven different well sites and then pumped to two water treatment plants. The treated water flows through a labyrinth of 127 miles of cast iron and ductile iron water mains to 6200 homes and businesses. Along the way, over 900 hydrants provide outlets for fire fighting purposes. Three strategically located water storage tanks containing over five million gallons of water provide a reserve for peak consumption demands, fires and emergencies.

Wilmington pumps over one billion gallons of water annually from its underground reservoirs. If your house is like mine, you used 90,000 gallons of water last year at a cost of $220. Some people think that is a lot of money, but it is only 30 percent of my electric bill.

The water department relies on water revenue to finance its operation. No tax dollars are used.

The management of a water utility is complex; involving many different operations all geared toward providing a continuous supply of potable water to consumers. Water department personnel take pride in their product. They bemoan the fact, however, that the public takes water for granted. Consumers don't understand the hurdles that need to be overcome - the effort to conform to strict quality standards; the challenge to meet increasing consumption demands; the patience to endure the vicissitudes of federal and state regulations; the reliability to respond to all emergencies; the planning to prevent contamination; and the need to provide the safest product at the least cost. That's a tall order to fill.

Water departments suffer from the Rodney Dangerfield syndrome - "They don't get no respect." Part of the problem is the diminished public confidence in public water supply due to headlines about contamination. A lack of knowledge about water supply causes the public to overreact to these headlines and become easy prey to alarmists and instant environmentalists who are the fastest growing population groups in the country. Increased awareness about the process of obtaining and delivering water will enable the public to put the rhetoric into perspective.

Many local water departments are making an effort to educate the public. For example, Wilmington and Tewksbury recently held open houses at new treatment plants. This past April for the Earth Day Fair at the High school, the Wilmington Water Department had a display highlighting some of its recent projects. Activities such as these increase the public's appreciation for their water department.

Water is not the country's biggest industry, nor its sexiest, but it certainly is one of its most crucial. It needs to take a more proactive and confident approach in dealing with legislators and consumers. The time has come for water departments to shed their low profile image. No longer can headline hunters shape public perception of municipal water systems.

If people understand their water department, maybe; just maybe, they will have more respect for its silent service.

Nice words for band

A letter recently received by Wilmington High School Principal Paul Fleming, contained some nice thoughts about the WHS Band.

Dear Sir:
My husband and I own and operate "Y" Landing Marine, and for the past several years the Wilmington High school Band has come through our marina on the way to and from band camp on Bear Island.

We want to compliment you on a fine group of young people who come through here every year. They are always polite, friendly, well mannered, respectful and I could go on and on. We have a small convenience store and the students always come in, in small groups and are very patient because we have only one cash register.

This year a group played music outside the store while waiting for the boat to return. Our customers were delighted with the free entertainment on Sunday morning.

These young people are certainly wonderful "ambassadors of good will" wherever they travel, and we look forward to seeing them again next year.

Sincerely,
Phyllis S. Hamblet

Backyard gardening

by Hugh Wiberg
This column has received a green tomato relish recipe (thanks R.L. of Tewksbury) and we have included it at the end of the column.

Last call; the early morning temperatures are flirting with a light frost, which came close on Tuesday morning with a 35 degrees in North Wilmington. Along with harvesting the rest of the tomatoes, bring in the last blossoms of marigold, zinnia, cosmos, and the other tender annuals. Enjoy the flowers inside for a week or 10 days after the outside plants are killed.

A Wilmington gardener writes to ask about his unusually successful crop of parsnips. He writes, "I've heard you can leave parsnips in the ground right through the winter and harvest them as needed. How do you get at them when the ground is frozen solid in January?"

Answer: Here's how I've done it and we have taken parsnips from the garden the following spring with no deterioration of the roots; about mid-November cut the remaining tops from the roots. Then cover the area with eight or 10 inches of mulch. Saltmarsh or regular hay is excellent. This mulch will keep the severe cold of December through February from freezing the soil. Pull the mulch aside as you take a few parsnips roots, then replace the mulch. As soon as a blanket of snow covers the garden, you will have additional insulation over the remaining roots. Works like a charm.

Try this something; dice the parsnips into half inch cubes. Boil until you can almost penetrate the pieces with a fork (about eight minutes); then hash brown in a skillet with a dash or two of garlic salt. Delicious!

O received a call from E.M. of Wilmington, who is about to plant her large order of tulip and daffodil bulbs recently received from Holland. Mrs. M. explained that almost every time she has planted fall bulbs she has lost a part of her planting to "something" which is apparently eating the bulbs. What to do?

Here are a couple or three things you can try, although none of these is absolutely guaranteed: (The problem could be squirrels, mice, shrews, voles, or even skunks.)

1. Plant your bulbs two or three inches deeper than you normally would. Most rodent damage takes place in the top five inches of soil. Set your bulbs seven or eight inches deep. They'll do fine.

2. Dust the bulbs heavily with Rotenone or Sevin dust just before planting. Sprinkle the dust on them again just before filling the holes. Although fall rains will eventually wash the powder into the subsoil, this should discourage rodent damage for several weeks, and possibly until the ground freezes in December.

3. (If your problem is really severe) Plant your bulbs eight inches deep, dust liberally with Seven or Rotenone, then fill the bed with soil. Cover the entire bed with fine mesh fence, laid flat on the surface. Cover the fencing with an inch of soil and tamp firmly. I followed this procedure several years ago and it resolved a severe rodent problem.

Here is R.L.'s green tomato relish recipe:

4 cups ground onion
4 cups ground cabbage
4 cups ground green tomatoes
12 green peppers, also ground
6 red peppers, ground
1/2 cup salt
6 cups sugar
1 tsp celery seed
2 tps mustard seed
1 1/2 tsp turmeric
4 cups vinegar

Sprinkle vegetables with salt, let stand overnight. Drain, rinse with cold water. Combine remaining ingredients and two cups of water; bring to a boil. Add vegetables; bring to a boil. Stir well, do not simmer longer than two minutes. Seal in sterilized jars. Yields eight pints.

A lot of hospitals promise quality care.

We offer living proof.

It's the smile on the face of a young girl. The look of confidence in a mother's eyes. It's a visible sense of well-being. The look of renewed health. It's living proof. And at New England Memorial, we believe it's the best proof of quality care a hospital can offer—the stories of people like yourself who have made the right choice for so many reasons.

It's the quality of our staff. In every department of our modern facility, it's the superior nursing and physician care we provide. It's the quality of caring that touches our patients' lives in such significant ways. It's the genuine compassion that's an integral part of our approach to psychiatric care. It's the warmth and hope that enhance our fertility center. It's the hand and heart working together making our staff the right choice for so many families.

We're right where you need us most—close to home in a convenient, suburban location that eliminates the problems of parking and traffic jams.

Add to this our commitment to providing state-of-the-art medical equipment, and you start to see the whole picture. It's the picture of a mother's joy. A family's reunion. It's the picture of health. And at New England Memorial, we think that's the best proof of quality care a hospital can offer. For more information regarding our services or for a listing of our physicians, please call (617) 979-7117.

Hair is the Total You

by Michelle Vacca

REMOVING BUILD-UP

Many women are turning to styling mousses and gels to get the kind of volume required by many of today's styles. However, mousses and gels tend to build up and leave a residue that eludes many shampoos. The answer to this problem lies in using a residue-removing shampoo once a week to wash away oils, waxes, and other dulling substances. The stronger products of this type remove built-up styling aids as well as minerals and metals deposited by hard water. They also help eliminate the green cast that chlorinated water can leave on hair. Milder options include deep-cleaning shampoos that not only increase shine but also allow gels and mousses to shape and lift better.

For hair to look its best, periodic visits to your hair professional are in order. Trimming hair helps to eliminate dead ends and keep hair styles fresh and crisp. Today's latest hair styles await your visit to SHAWSHEEN HAIR SALON. Now there is a natural approach to beautiful hair - Systeme Biologie by Matrix. This product blends the legendary powers of herbal extracts with today's most exciting scientific advances. It brings a whole new level of fitness to your hair and scalp. Look for our salon at 161 Shawsheen Ave., Rt. 129 Wilmington. For an appointment call (508) 658-9475. Hrs. Mon. 9-6; Tues. 9-7; Wed.-Thurs. 9-9; Fri. 8-9; Sat. 9-5.

Matrix Alternate Action Shampoo removes any product buildup.

HINT: Choose a deep conditioner with proteins and polymers if you have chemically processed hair.

Remember... our flowers are always guaranteed for a minimum of five days!!!

Say it with FLOWERS... Because the beauty of flowers is in itself a miracle and a symbol of hope. Flowers have always belonged at weddings, church services, and at those moments when humans feeling overflows.

Floral arrangements, sprays, and live plants sent in sympathy add dignity and colorful beauty to a funeral. These floral tributes radiate a warmth that enhances the funeral setting. When words fail, flowers are as beautifully alive as a memory.

At THE FLOWER STOP FLORIST, we think you should know that flowers provide comfort to the family as well as a tribute to the one they loved.

In Loving Memory of Rudy Carrasco

Dear Dad,

The day that you left us was so hard to bear,
And now the fifth anniversary is drawing near.
My heart still aches with thoughts of you.
You're in my heart, my soul, and all that I do.
The day should be joyful for it's my birthday,
But all I remember is that it's when you went away.
Someday, Dad, I'll see you again.
Just remember that I love you till then.

Love,
Laurie

F.T. CARRASCO
"RUDY"

Not just today but everyday our thoughts turn back to you.
Some little things in a special way like you used to say and do.
They say time heals all sorrow
and helps us to forget,
But so far time has only proved
how much we miss you yet.
God gave us strength to fight,
and courage to bear the blow.
But what it meant to lose you
no one will ever know.
We Love You and Miss You.

Lovingly remembered by wife,
children and grandchildren

obituaries

John L. Boeri

John L. Boeri, 68, of Wilmington died September 13, 1990 at St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Brighton.

Mr. Boeri was born in Cambridge, the son of the late Louis and Genevieve (Govanani) Boeri. He had lived in Boston for many years prior to moving to Wilmington 39 years ago. Mr. Boeri served in the U.S. Navy during World War II. He had been employed as a ship scheduler for the Boston Navy Yard for 32 years and was also employed by Marine Systems for many years.

Mr. Boeri is survived by his beloved wife Jeanne L. (LeClerc), his children, Jay of Hartland, Vt., David of Sharon, Judith Lyons of Lexington, and Karen of Wilmington; his sisters, Frances Durante of Arlington, Eleanor Dunne of Somerville, Eileen Martino of Hanover; his brothers, Victor Boeri of Medford and Louis Boeri of Burlington; his grandchildren, Jennifer, Jesse and Andrew Boeri; Eric and Corey Lyons; and Jamie, and Alexandra Boeri.

He was also the brother of the late Mary Bonaccorso of Medford and grandfather of the late Nicholas Boeri.

His funeral was held from the W.S. Cavanaugh & Son Funeral Home on Monday morning followed by a funeral mass at St. Dorothy's Church at 10. Burial took place in the family lot, Wildwood Cemetery.

Memorials in his name may be made to the Jesuit Mission, El Salvador, 761 Harrison Ave., Boston, MA. 02118.

Kevin J. O'Brien

Kevin J. O'Brien, 26, of Tewksbury died Sunday, Sept. 16, 1990 in Wakefield as the result of an automobile accident.

He was born in Boston July 24, 1964, son of Joan (Donlon) O'Brien and Donald O'Brien.

Mr. O'Brien was a 1982 graduate of Tewksbury Memorial High School where he played varsity football and basketball.

He earned an associate degree in business from Northern Essex Community College in Haverhill and had a real estate and appraisal license.

He was a computer analyst at Data Marketing Corp., Bedford and worked part-time for the Excalibur Limousine Company of Tewksbury.

In addition to his parents, survivors include three brothers, Donald and James, both of Tewksbury and Scott of Billerica; one sister, Michelle O'Brien of California and numerous aunts, uncles and friends.

Funeral services were held from the Farmer and Dee Funeral Home of Tewksbury Wednesday at 10:30 a.m. followed by a funeral mass at 11 in St. William's Church. Burial will be in Tewksbury Cemetery.

Dorothy M. Park

Dorothy May (Radden) Park, a former resident of Wilmington, for 67 years, died September 17, 1990 at the Parkland Medical Center in Derry, N.H., after a brief illness. For the past eight years Mrs. Park had lived in Pelham, N.H. She was born in Lowell, 83 years ago.

Mrs. Park was the widow of Philip S. Park who died in 1977 and she was the mother of Phyllis Morse, Beverly Ann Briggs, Marjorie Belloir, Ruth Fuss, Martha Rice, Shirley Bower, Pauline Park, Richard W., Robert A., Philip S., Jr., William M., David C., Allen R., Ronald E., Thomas W., Kenneth D., and Lloyd L. Park, Thirty-six grandchildren and 39 great-grandchildren also survive.

Mrs. Park was the sister of Helen Munson, Margaret Cooke, and the late "Jo" O'Neil; and she was the dear friend of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Smith of Derry.

Funeral services will be held at the Nichols Funeral Home, 187 Middlesex Ave. (Rt. 62) Wilmington Friday at 11 a.m. Interment will follow in Wildwood Cemetery.

Visiting hours will be held Thursday from 2 to 6 and from 7 to 9 p.m. In lieu of flowers contributions in her memory may be made to the Jimmy Fund, 44 Binney Street, Boston, Ma. 02115.

Peter Juchnevics

Peter Juchnevics, 44, the co-founder of the Li'l Red Schoolhouse Day Care Center in No. Tewksbury died Sunday, September 16, 1990 at the New England Medical Center in Boston following a two year fight with leukemia.

He was born in Stuttgart, Germany, February 20, 1946, the son of Zinaida (Terentjevs) Juchnevics of Brookline and immigrated to the United States in 1950. He lived in Hamilton and Newton, N.H., before moving to Tewksbury in 1979.

He worked as a product manager for the Gen Rad Corp in Concord, but was most recently a self-employed general contractor. He served in the U.S. Air Force during the Vietnam War. He was a communicant of St. Robert's Bellarmine Church in West Andover and a Northeastern University Alumni.

In addition to his parents he is survived by his wife, Alice L. (Burke) Juchnevics; five children, Mrs. Tony (Renee) Rodriguez of Billerica, Robin Juchnevics, Peter Juchnevics, Jonathan Juchnevics and Alexandra Juchnevics all of Tewksbury; his brother, Igor Juchnevics of Roxbury; father and mother-in-law, John and Rose (Nardone) Burke of Malden; brothers-in-law, John Burke of Manchester and William Burke of Hingham.

A funeral mass was celebrated Wednesday, September 19 in St. Robert Bellarmine Church, West Andover. Burial followed in Tewksbury Cemetery. Memorial contributions to the Leukemia Society of America, 31 St. James Ave., Boston, MA 02116 will be appreciated.

Arrangements were through the Tewksbury Funeral Home.

Arline Lally

Mrs. Arline (Hammond) Lally, 73, of Wilmington, died Thursday, September 16, 1990 at St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Brighton.

Mrs. Lally was born in Portland, Oregon the daughter of the late Conrad and Louise (Vorpahl) Hammond. She lived in South Boston for many years prior to moving to Wilmington 50 years ago. She had been active in the campaigns to elect the late Rep. Fred F. Cain.

Mrs. Lally was the widow of Joseph A. Lally and is survived by her daughter Mrs. Donald (Joanne) Howard of Andover; her two brothers, Robert Casey of California and Ralph Hammond of Washington. Three grandchildren also survive.

Her funeral was held from the W.S. Cavanaugh & Son Funeral Home Monday morning, with a funeral mass at St. Thomas Church. Interment took place in the family lot, Wildwood Cemetery.

Alyce E. Cotter

Mrs. Alyce E. (Rappold) Cotter, 78, widow of Patrick J. Cotter, died Sunday, September 16, 1990 at Winchester Hospital following an extended illness.

She was born February 12, 1912 in Revere, the daughter of the late Carl A. and the late Barbara (Trapp) Rappold, and lived in Everett until moving to Tewksbury 27 years ago.

She was retired from the production department of Sweetheart Plastic Company of Wilmington and was a communicant of St. Dorothy's Church and a member of the American Legion Auxiliary.

Mrs. Cotter is survived by one nephew, Albert Rappold of Dayton, Ohio; one step-niece, Debbie Perry of Deltona, Fla; one sister-in-law, Marguerite Ruane of Lynn; one brother-in-law, the Rev. Fr. Gilbert, F.S.C. Manila, Philippines.

She was also the sister of the late Walter Rappold.

A funeral mass was scheduled for Thursday, September 20, in St. Dorothy's Church with burial to follow in Glenwood Cemetery, Everett.

Arrangements through the Tewksbury Funeral Home.

Straight teeth talk...

HOW DO TEETH MOVE?

Moving teeth is relatively simple to do. Any gentle, continuous pressure from any source will cause tooth movement. Even a three year old with a simple device called a thumb can do it.

Using thin stainless steel or titanium wires and tiny elastics, orthodontists apply light sideways pressures to the teeth which cause bone to resorb on one side and new bone to build up on the other side, thereby moving them. Patients will note that the teeth become mobile and sore to bite on. This is temporary and occurs because the build-up of new bone around the tooth is a very slow process (like a fracture healing).

This is also why you can't speed up orthodontic treatment; teeth can only be moved so fast.

Although it may be deceptively easy to move a tooth, moving all the upper and lower teeth into a normal bite (occlusion) in a child whose jaws are also growing in varying amounts and directions is an extremely difficult and exacting feat.

The orthodontic specialist, who has been trained in a wide variety of tooth moving techniques, can individualize treatment to achieve optimal results for each patient.

Birthdays

Nancy Cormier of Park Street, Wilmington, had a double reason for celebration on September 17; Nancy and husband Joe celebrated their 30th wedding anniversary and her birthday on the same day.

Esther Russell of Wildwood Street, Wilmington and Harrison Fogg of Linda Road, will share birthday greetings on September 23.

Jim Hagan of Hobson Avenue, Wilmington and Craig Downs of West Street will both be a year wiser on September 24.

September 25 will mark the special day of John Giroux of Aldrich Road, Wilmington and Lillian Turner of Hanson Road.

Kimberly Mytych of Dobson Street, Wilmington, on whom "somebody snitched" will be serenaded by friends and relatives on September 26.

Michelle Fenton of Butters Row, Wilmington and Christine Roberts of Roberts Road, will be listening to the strains of "Happy Birthday" on September 27.

Effie Cromwell of Adams Street, Wilmington will observe her special day September 28 and will share greetings with Barbara Tobey of Auburn Avenue and Terry Lightfoot of Birch Street, Tewksbury.

Anniversaries

Mr. and Mrs. Tony Galinis of Edgar Avenue, Tewksbury will mark their 40th wedding anniversary September 24 and will share greetings with Hank and Ruth Santini of Kenwood Avenue, Wilmington who will be celebrating for the 14th time on the same day.

Louie and Fran Nolan of Jones Avenue, Wilmington will observe their 49th wedding anniversary on September 27. Paul and Dorothy O'Donnell of Silverhurst Avenue, Wilmington will be celebrating for the 15th time on the 27th.

Silver anniversary

Bill and Dee Blowers of Carolyn Road, Wilmington will mark their 25th wedding anniversary on September 25.

Did it again!!

An association with the family dating from the late 30's should have proven the figure incorrect, but for at least the third time, this column has made a mathematical error when reporting the wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Basil Weatherbee of West Street, Wilmington.

The Weatherbee's actually observed their 65th anniversary on September 23; not their 63rd as reported. Sorry.

Larry Pinto

Larry Pinto of Dadant Drive, Wilmington was pleasantly surprised last Tuesday evening when a sizeable number of friends, and relatives, many of them members of the Wilmington (Hudson Raceway) Racing Team turned up at his home to help him celebrate his birthday.

Dr. Hartl to speak on management styles

Have you ever wondered what type of manager are you and what is your corporation's "personality?" The Wilmington Chamber of Commerce will have as its guest speaker on Thursday, September 27, 1990, Robert F. Hartl, Ph.D., licensed psychologist and staff member of the Wilmington Family Counseling Service.

Dr. Hartl will discuss

"management styles" and how and why corporations are using the Myers-Briggs type indicator as part of their team building and management training strategies.

The luncheon meeting will be held at the Knights of Columbus Hall, School Street Ext., at noon. Cost is $8 for Chamber members and $10 for non-members. Reservations are required by calling 657-7211 before September 24.

Registration open for skating program

The Wilmington Figure Skating Club is currently holding registration for its USFSA "Skate With U.S." basic skills program. The program will run for 26 weeks and is open to children of all ages. At each session skaters will receive a 15 minute lesson with a highly qualified professional and a 35 minute lesson with a volunteer instructor. The program is approved by the Professional Skaters Guild of America.

Class sizes are limited and will be filled on a first come, first served basis. Participants this year may choose to skate in the Wednesday program (5:15 - 6:05 p.m.) beginning October 17 and/or the Saturday program (noon to 12:50 p.m.) beginning October 20. All classes are held at the Ristuccia Expo Center 190 Main St., Wilmington.

The program will run through mid-April, at which time the club will hold its ice show, "Crystal Ice Revue '91." All skaters are eligible to participate in the show.

For more information call 851-4345, 658-2412, or 470-1285. Registration is by mail.

Story hours at library

Story hours for three and four-year-old Wilmington residents will begin the week of October 16 at Wilmington Memorial Library. Registration by telephone or in person will begin Monday, September 24 and continue until groups are filled. Five-year-olds not registered in kindergarten are also eligible for this free library program.

Wilmington senior topics

Buses leave at 11 a.m.

The buses for Yoken's will be leaving the Center at 11 a.m. There are many new seniors joining this trip. Seniors should arrive at the Center around 10:30. When you arrive at the Center, enter the building to be checked off. Remain inside until the buses have backed into the parking lot. We will be boarding the handicapped bus first. There will be no cars allowed to park in the area marked off for parking.

Please park your car as you arrive in the area in back of the building. Line up next to the dumpster right across, then one car behind another until the back has been filled. Others will have to park at the Swain. We want the main parking area free for the buses to be backed in. No parking near the building, hill side of the parking lot or the street. On returning, remain on the bus until all buses have backed and parked. Please do not drive your car from the parking lot as seniors are getting off the bus; wait until all buses have left the area.

Fuel program

The center has received many calls on the fuel program. Community Teamwork in Lowell will mail applications to those who received fuel last year some time in October. As the allotments have decreased this year to full Federal allotment from $650 to $525. With so many unemployed the amount of money received for the program is expected to run out quickly. When you receive your application all you have to do is sign it and return it right away or you may not be included in those accepted to receive an allotment. This advice is also good for those who have never applied before, but feel they may qualify. The Center will also accept applications in October. Make sure you get your October Social Security and pension checks copied and call Edith as soon as you see in this column applications have been received. The program will not cover any oil delivered in the month of October even though you submitted the application that month. Coverage starts on November 1.

Hearing aid specialist

The hearing aid specialist will be at the Center this Friday, September 21 starting at 10 a.m. He will be checking the hearing of seniors and hearing aids for proficiency. This service is free to seniors.

Dr. Leavitt

Podiatrist Dr. Leavitt will be at the Center on Friday, September 28 starting at 9 a.m. He will be treating ailments of the feet. Take a number from Louise as you enter the Center.

Lunch time change

Lunch time for the seniors has been changed. Lunch will be served this year at the High School. The new time will be noon. The price of the meal will remain 50 cents for one meal. An additional sandwich will be $1.25 and another complete meal will be $2.50. Please do not go to the lunch too early. Remember students will be in the cafeteria. We do not want any accidents by being in their way as they are hurrying to classes.

October social sign-up

We will be signing up for the October therapeutic social Friday morning beginning at nine. The social will be a dinner dance at the Tewksbury/Wilmington Elks on October 10. A roast beef dinner with all the trimmings will be served at 7 p.m. Music for dinner and dancing will be provided by the Big Band Sounds of Chet Harnden. A $3 non-refundable deposit will be required when signing up.

Need a stove?

A senior has a stove she would like to give away. If interested she said it is in good condition. Call 657-7634.

Fall fair

Don't forget the Fall Fair will be a month from Thursday. We will accept all articles as soon as you finish them. Don't take any flea market articles we do not have any place to put them. Take them the day of the fair. If you could get the money on books that are out back it will be appreciated. Last week we sold a good number of books, but we still have a lot left. If you have not taken a book or if you could take another one, it would mean a lot.

Angela Martins

Angela Martins on dean's list

Angela Martins, daughter of John and Angelina Martins of Sheldon Avenue, Wilmington has been named to the dean's list for the entire year at Northern Essex Community college where she is a sophomore majoring in accounting/business.

Angela is a 1988 graduate of Wilmington High School.

Wilmington police news

During the week ending September 18, Wilmington police officers responded to 40 alarms, logged two assault complaints, assisted other departments three times, completed eight bank escorts and investigated three burglaries.

Nine arrests and three protective custody detentions were made, four disorderly conduct complaints were checked out along with five domestic problems. Two larcenies were investigated, a motor vehicle was reported stolen and one person was reported missing.

Six non-criminal complaints were taken, 14 public service calls were answered, eight traffic accidents were investigated and four traffic services were performed.

Alert neighbors reported seven incidents of suspicious activity and 10 cases of vandalism are still under investigation.

Arrests

On Wednesday Inspectors Neville and King arrested Daniel R. Smith, Jr., 17 of Bedford on a warrant obtained after an investigation into a larceny of auto parts. Inspec. Neville was able to trace the parts to a location in Wellesley. Smith was charged with larceny of parts valued over $250 and receiving stolen property.

Later on Wednesday, Kevin Gagnon of Lowell was arrested by Officer Tom Miller on a default warrant after a computer check kicked out a Lowell P.D. warrant in his name.

At 1:45 a.m. Thursday Officer Paul Jepson and Sgt. Gable arrested Robert Stone of Wedgewood Avenue, charging him with operating under the influence and failing to drive within marked lanes. Stone was bailed for a Thursday morning court appearance where his license will be suspended for 90 days after he failed the breathalyzer with a reading of .24.

Thursday morning Officer Joe Waterhouse arrested Michael Costello of Cottage Street after a traffic stop. A record check revealed a default warrant issued by Woburn Court.

A Wakefield man was arrested at Textron Thursday night after officers responded to a knife throwing incident. Steven M.

Dog report

The Wilmington dog officer is presently holding the following dog.

Female shepherd mix, black & brown, brown leather collar with silver studs, picked up at 70 Shawsheen Ave. Sept. 4. Up for immediate adoption.

Male chocolate lab, blue nylon collar and broken cable tie, picked up Sept. 11 on Blackstone Street.

The animal control officer may be contacted for adoptions by calling 658-7845. For dog complaints, contact the Wilmington Police Department on its business line, 658-5071.

IN A PINCH

If a houseplant were allowed to grow as freely at home as it does in the wild, it would surely trail all over the floor. In order to avert this scraggly mess, those who buy houseplants (or receive them as gifts) are advised to "pinch back" prunable growth. This should be done while the plant is still young, before it has a chance to grow "leggy." Pinching back may be accomplished simply by trimming off about one inch of the growing tip or stem, to a point just above the first or second node. This is the point at which a pair of leaves is able to appear. Pinching back has the effect of stimulating the growth of axil buds lower down on the stem. When side shoots grow long enough from the axil, they too should be pinched back. The resultant overall effect is a bushier, fuller houseplant.

Do you keep indoor plants in your workplace? When you need advice about your office greenery, you'll find friendly, helpful experts convenient to downtown and route 93. We're a full-service garden center and landscape designers. Call us at 851-4472. We're open Mon-Sat., 8-5:30. Sundays 8-4. Our florist shop can supply arrangements for any occasion. Let us do the flowers for your next dinner a party!

HINT: The term "pinching back" comes from the practice of pruning growth by pinching it between thumb and forefinger.

A sense of innocence lost

Tewksbury's gentle giant is gone. Kevin O'Brien, a Tewksbury High School graduate of 1982 and a member of the first Redmen football squad to ever qualify for a Super Bowl in 1981, died tragically early Sunday morning when the limousine he was driving was struck head-on by a speeding Camaro, according to police.

O'Brien was just 26-years-old. Tewksbury has lost not only an athlete, but more importantly, a person that should never be forgotten.

The last time I saw 'OB' as I called him, he was lumbering off to the men's room at former TMHS coach Bob Aylward's testimonial. I was standing there waiting for the evening's speakers to begin, and the mood was typically 'OB'. "Hi Cookie," he said simply in a deep rumble as he smiled gently and went about his business.

I thought to myself at the time that this kid has never changed. He was still a big guy who used his size to intimidate only on the playing field. If there was ever a gentler and kinder person to don the TMHS red and blue, I have yet to meet him.

At the conclusion of the Aylward night, each of the football graduates were asked to speak, telling the audience his name and his year of graduation. Many of the young men chose to say much more than that, carried away with the emotion of the moment.

Somehow I knew that Kevin wouldn't say much, but what he said would be heartfelt. This gentle giant of few words always meant what he said. "Coach," said 'OB', "we love you."

Kevin O'Brien always had that sense of innocence about him. He seemed untouched by life's cruelty, and despite struggling to find himself after high school, he finally did. He hung tough in the face of life's adversities and spoke to no one in anger.

At the time of his death he had just started a new job and was happy. That is what those close to Kevin can take solace in—that he was happy. He also made others happy simply with a smile.

His family provided me with a series of photos showing Kevin in his youth football playing days. Those struck me as the photos that I should be using with this column.

For at that age, we all have a sense of innocence about us. Most of us lose it at some point in our lives. Kevin O'Brien never lost that sense of innocence. He didn't even have to work at it. That was just the kind of person that he was.

Now, like most of the people in Tewksbury who watched this boy grow into manhood, I have a great sense of innocence lost.

Kevin O'Brien, shown as a youngster in his youth football playing days, died tragically in a car accident Sunday night.

Softball tourney

On the weekend of October 5, 6 and 7, there will be an over 30 men's softball tournament in Wilmington. The tournament will be run as a one pitch modified, double elimination.

The draw for games will be held Thursday, October 4 at 8 p.m. at American Legion Hall in Wilmington. An entrance fee of $100.00 will be collected at the draw.

All proceeds will benefit the Wilmington Recreation Department. For more information, call Herb Mason, 508-658-2365 or Mark Peters, 508-658-6346.

Ready to pounce

The ball pops loose and the Tewksbury High School defense is ready to pounce on this Lowell quarterback's fumble early in Friday night's 27-14 TMHS win in the MVC football opener for both teams.

Wildcats pursue

Wilmington High School's Mike King (87) pursues this pass attempt as a fallen teammate just misses an interception Saturday afternoon at Lawrence. The Wildcat defense played a fine game in a 6-0 WHS victory.

Rec. Dept. coming events

Special kids to rodeo

The Shriners Rodeo is coming to Wilmington Saturday, September 29. The Recreation Department will be supervising a special needs group as they do each year.

This is a free performance. There is no charge for Wilmington special needs youngsters. This special treat begins at 9:30 a.m. that day. Call the Recreation Office, 658-4270 to register.

Men's basketball league

The Recreation Department will assist in putting the men's league together this year if there is interest in the supervisory position. Anyone interested in this highly rewarding volunteer position should call Ron Swasey at 658-4270 soon.

Newport mansion trip

The Wilmington Recreation Department's annual trip to beautiful Newport, R.I. will take place Saturday, September 22. The trip is sold out, but you can have your name put on the waiting list for any last minute cancellations.

Call the Rec Office at 658-4270 to have your name placed on the waiting list.

Fall registration

Below is a list and brief description of most fall activities for the Wilmington Recreation Department.

Registration, unless otherwise noted, will take place in the Recreation Office in the Town Hall Wednesday, Sept. 19 from 6:30 to 8 p.m. and any weekday thereafter from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Payment, preferably by check, must be made at registration. Programs are offered on a first, come, first served basis. We are always looking for suggestions, volunteers, supervisors and skilled leaders. For information call Susan Delaney or Recreation Director Ron Swasey at 658-4270.

Basketball: (Gerry Forgett and Bob LaVita). Ages eight through 15 (as of Dec. 31, 1990); $45, Saturdays, Dec., Jan., Feb. and March at WHS and North Int. gyms.

This will mark the 28th year for the WRBL. Volunteer coaches and assistants are always needed. Every player receives a team picture and an equal number of games. Practices take place during the week and vacations throughout the season. Deadline for signup is Friday, Oct. 12. Sign up anytime.

Mens' gym night: Ages 17 and over, $25 or $3 per night; 13 weeks, Wed., 7:30 to 9:15 p.m., Dec. 5-Feb. 27 at North Int.

This program is for local men and their friends who wish to practice basketball in an informal manner. Sign up anytime or pay $3 per night.

Discounts: (Susan Delaney and Ron Swasey) Want to save money? We have discount coupons for Showcase Cinemas in Woburn and Lawrence, good Monday through Thursday. Also, save big with coupons good for Plymouth County attractions, plus Disney World and other Florida attractions. Stop by anytime.

Entertainment '91: In mid-October we will be offering a book of coupons, good for saving dollars at numerous restaurants, fine dining and casual, dry cleaning, theatres, sports events, family fun and more. This book is a real money saver and makes a great gift. We also have the popular "Greater Boston '91" version of money savers.

Bruins tickets: We have tickets for the Saturday evening, Dec. 22 clash with Minnesota and the Saturday evening, Jan. 5 battle against Washington. Tickets to the latter would make a good Christmas gift. Call to register.

Canoe rental: (Ron Swasey) Enjoy local and area ponds and streams. See the foliage from the water. Day rate is $10; $15 for the weekend. Call ahead to reserve equipment.

Gymnastics: (Ellen Grinder) Ages four through grade 12; $25; eight weeks, Sat., Sept. 29-Nov. 17 at the WHS gym.

This program includes boys too, through grade three in co-ed classes. Basic tumbling and gymnastics games are offered. Classes are 9 a.m., pre school; 10 a.m. grades one two and three; 11 a.m. grades four five and six and intermediate and advanced.

Circus tickets: All ages, $12; Thurs., Oct. 11, 7:30 p.m. show, Ringling Bros and Barnum and Bailey Circus at Boston Garden. We have tickets for the "Greatest Show on Earth" at a reduced rate. See Gunther Gebel-Williams on his fairwell tour. We are not providing bus transportation for this event. Come in any weekday between 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

Dancing lessons: (Steve White) ages 15 and up; $35 (adults); $20 (students); eight weeks, Fri., Sept. 28-Nov. 16. We're starting our famous ballroom dancing lessons again. The basic ballroom I class for beginners will run from 7 to 8 p.m. This class will consist of basic steps in fox trot, waltz, cha cha and polka. Line dances, hustle, hully gully, Greek dance, hora and Jesse polka. Swing will also be included.

The 8 p.m. class will be an advanced ballroom class, a continuation of ballroom I will include fox trot, waltz, swing, cha cha, rumba and tango. Knowledge of basic steps preferred. Singles are welcome. Join for a bunch of fun Friday nights.

Tennis: (Lisa Cutone) Ages nine through adult; $10 adults; $8 ages nine through 16; four weeks, Sat., Sept. 29-Oct. 21 at the North Int. courts. Don't put that racket away yet. Brush up, have some fun and keep improving. The youth class is at 10 and the adult class is at 11.

New York City day trips: Ages 18 and over; $35 per trip, Sat., Nov. 10 and Dec. 8, 6:30 a.m. to 1:30 a.m. from the Swain School. Christmas Shop at Macy's, see the Statue of Liberty or take in a Broadway show. Youths must be accompanied by an adult. We leave at 6:30 a.m. and arrive home at 1:30 a.m.

The cost is about half the normal fare. Sign up any weekday between the hours of 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. This is a low cost and hassle free way to visit the Big Apple.

New York City overnight: Ages 18 and over; $169 pp, Sat., Dec. 1 and Sun., Dec. 2 from the Swain School. We are pleased to offer a limited number of seats on a two day excursion to the Big Apple.

Included in this package are tickets to the Radio City Music Hall Christmas Show featuring the Rockettes, a sight-seeing tour of NYC and time for shopping.

Reservations should be made soon, as space is on a first come, first served basis. A $25 deposit is due when registering and final payment is due on October 10. Call for information.

Horribles parade: (Ron Swasey) Here we go again with the 23rd annual parade of horrors. Join us, one and all, on Halloween, Wed., Oct. 31.

The parade forms next to the police station and marches to the WHS tennis courts beginning at 6:45 p.m. Goodies galore wait all creepy creatures! Adults should call if they wish to help conduct the festivities.

VHS sports, travel and fitness tapes: We have canoeing, fly fishing, soccer for kids, Hawaii, ladies fitness, tennis for kids, archery, parachute games, amazing sports bloopers, teaching kids golf, downhill skiing basics and cross country skiing tapes to loan to the public at no charge. Call to reserve a tape.

Punt, pass and kick: (Rotary, Recreation and Pop Warner), Ages eight through 14 as of August 1, 1990. Free, Saturday, Oct. 13, 11 a.m. at the Glen Road Rec area. Join us for some good natured competition. There is separate competition for each age in yearly increments. Girls are welcome too. Awards will be presented. The rain date is the following Saturday.

Special needs: We have free tickets for the Sat., Sept. 29 Shriners Rodeo. Call to register. A separate flyer on other programs will be forthcoming.

Disney World trip: During past April school vacations, we have taken many Mickey Mouse fans to Orlando. This April we hope to take a large group. If interested, call to be put on our mailing list, and we will send you a flyer. Plan to enjoy a little bit of summer fun and sun in April.

Karate: (Dan Lynn), grades two through eight; $18 six weeks, Sat., Oct. 6-Nov. 10; 10-11:30 a.m. at WHS gym area. This class is for both boys and girls. Anyone can learn "Shotokan." This program helps develop coordination, character, integrity, self discipline and respect for others.

Kinder-Kicks: (Dan Lynn) ages three through grade one; $15; six weeks, Sat., Oct. 6-Nov. 10, 9 to 9:45 a.m. at WHS gym area.

Ladies fitness (PM): (Mary Ann Murphy); adults, $35; 7:30 to 8:30 p.m., Mon. and Wed., eight weeks, Oct. 1-Nov. 28 at the Shawheen Elementary Gym. It's an excellent opportunity to initiate or continue a personal fitness program and have some fun doing it.

This is low impact course consisting of aerobics, muscle toning and conditioning. No fitness class experience is necessary. There will be no class Mon., Oct. 8, Columbus Day or Wed., Nov. 21, the day before Thanksgiving.

Ladies fitness (AM): (Karen Crupi), Adults, $35; 9:30 to 10:30 a.m., Wed., and Fri., eight weeks, Oct. 3-Dec. 7 at Town Hall gym. Get a neighbor, friend or just join by yourself! This is an excellent waker-upper! Karen's Klass features low impact (no jumping) aerobics along with floor work and toning. Take your own mat. There will be no class Thanksgiving week.

Junior basketball: (Bill Oatis), One regular Rec League for boys and girls ages eight to 15 registers over 300 yearly. This new junior division is for six and seven-year-olds as of Dec. 31, 1990. It runs for six Saturdays beginning January 12. Cost is $15. Drop in anytime before Thanksgiving to register. This program is instructional in nature.

is Week #7 ending on Saturday) and my mental energies are pretty well shot. In fact, I've only put the boat in the water once this month, and even then I missed an important call from the hospital about a terrible case of internal bleeding that night.
My humble apologies, but I'm short of gray matter lately.

I promise to get back on the job as soon as possible. I'm not done with this column by a long shot.

The Greater Lowell Fly Fishers broke their long standing jinx over the weekend and managed to pull off their annual fall derby without a drenching rain. How unusual!

The first place bass, worth $300, was a 4-pound, 10-ounce specimen, taken by Lowell's George LaComb; second and $185 was handed over to Dave Faria of Dracut, with a 3-12 bass; club member Rene Noel took third on a 3-pound-11 fish, but Rene also won a trophy for taking his fish on a fly, something that the GLFF rather smiles upon, although fly-fishing is not the club's single purpose, regardless of the name.
Fourth and $75 went to Dracut's
Dan Leclerc for a 3-pound-2 fish; fifth went to Rich Tourville, also of Dracut, on a 2-11 specimen; Jason
Rodriguez of Lowell held sixth on a 2-7 fish; Bob Potter of N. Chelmsford earned seventh place with a 2-pounder; Bill Caldwell of Lowell earned eighth place on a 1-15; Tom Lemist of Roslindale held onto the ninth place with a bass at 1-pound-12, and Don Vancellette played the role of caboose with a 1-pound-9.
In the carp division, Dracut's own
Scott Filistowicz won top honors for a 17-pound-15 ounce; Norman "Mickey" Cox of Lowell placed on a 16-2 carp; Tom Lopes of Lowell earned third of a 13-6; Bob Malenfont of Lowell gained fourth place on a 13-3 fish; and Lisa Proctor of Lowell took fifth place on a carp that weighed 13 pounds, even.

This isn't fair, but I've gotta do it.
Eddie Gerossie of Billerica is one of the better bass anglers in GLFF, although he's having an "off" year.
Boy, is he ever. Eddie saw a big one roll in shallow water, flipped a jig at it, and enjoyed a massive hit. He fought it to the boat, and ended up in sixth place in the carp division for his 12-pound-13 specimen. Too bad, Eddie. Bad year for bass, eh?

Seventh place carp went to Rich
Connors of Lowell on a 12-pound-10er; Jim Gray of Lowell earned the number 8 slot on a 12-9-and-a-half-ounce; Emory Tomblin of Tyngsboro took ninth place on a 12-9 carp; and last place was earned by club member Bob Simard (Jr.)
on a 11-pound, 13-ounce carp.

Poor Eddie Gerossie. What a bad year for bass. Club President Jose Cambrils is now trying to convince Eddie to buy a club T-shirt that says
"Merrimack River Carp: They're not just for breakfast anymore."

Incidentally, last Saturday was also the date for a Greater Lowell Fly
Fishers members-only bass derbies, until somebody noticed that they put two events on the same day.
Oops. The members derby instead was moved to this Saturday, to be held on Knopps Pond, Groton.

This Saturday, September 22, the Tewksbury Rod & Gun Club will be holding their Gun Show and flea market, at the Chandler Street HQ, and don't forget their Sportsmen's
Family Rendezvous on Sept. 30.

Please note that we've passed the former "Closing Date" for fishing, so the trout limit is back down to three fish per day, instead of the six you can take during summer.

Wilmington Pop Warner

C' team
rolls, 35-7

Wilmington vs Burlington
Wilmington's C team opened its season on a positive note with a 35-7 victory.

The offense was led by quarterback Lee Trimarchi, with exceptional running by Bill Harrison, Shaun Kerrigan, John Plunkett and Eric Clancy. The offensive line executed well on this first day of football.

On the other side of the win the defense was strong, with exceptional plays made by Mark Wallace, David Santini and Phil Bates.

Wilmington B team

Wilmington's defense played all tough games against Burlington. Stopping them on two drives, one drive was stopped by Bill Holloway with an interception as he ran for 60 yards.

The defense was also led by Mike McDonald, Jeff Farase and John Civetti. The offense was led by a good running attack of Rob Bentley, Rich Gillis and Wes Dunham.

Rob Bentley scored Wilmington's only touchdown on a run up the middle which proved to be enough in a 6-2 victory.

Wildcat D-1

The Wildcat D-1 team started its season with a convincing 13-0 win over Burlington.

On the Wildcats' first possession they marched 60 yards to score. Tim Gillis scored the touchdown on a 48 yard run.

In the second quarter Tim Gillis threw a six yard touchdown pass to Tom Baratta. The extra point was run in by Jamie Campbell.

Good runs were also made by Derek Maza and Tom Southmayd. Great blocks were made by Jay Isberg, Joe Tosa, Mike Shelly, Jay Tildsley, Russell Hobby, Dan DeCoursey, Ed Harrison and Tom Cassella.

The defense was led by Tim Gillis, Jamie Campbell, Mike Levesque, Tom Baratta, Ryan Clancy, Chris Butler, Adam DePasquale, Chris McDonald, Rory Ballou and Joe Moroney.

Wilmington's Pop Warner A team lost to Burlington, 19-7 in opening game action. The winners were paced by Brian Tildsley on a six yard run and by Steven O'Neil.

Outstanding offense and defense from Josh Levesque. Making a spectacular 60 yard catch was Jack Warford.

Nice play
Dan

Tewksbury High School senior Dan Gillette heads down the sideline with this interception return for a touchdown that was called back by a TMHS personal foul penalty.

Redmen
PAT

Sean Mackey boots this extra point out of Dana Boudreau's hold. The Redmen rolled to a 27-14 opening game victory over Lowell.

Wilmington school news

West Intermediate
 West Intermediate parents are cordially invited to attend the school's open house on Tuesday, September 25 from 7 to 8:30 p.m. Parents will follow their youngsters' daily schedule. Refreshments will be available in the cafeteria.

Shawsheen School
 The Shawsheen School open house will be held Thursday, September 27 from 7 to 9 p.m. Parents are invited to come meet their child's teacher from 7 to 8:15 p.m. in the classroom and gather in the cafeteria for refreshments the remainder of the evening.

In-service workshops for teachers will be held on the following Wednesdays: Sept. 26, November 28, January 30, March 27 and May 29. Children in grades one through five will be dismissed at noon. There will be no kindergarten sessions on these days.

 Volunteers are needed to help in the school library, lunchroom, and office. Teachers also need volunteer assistants. If you can offer any assistance, please contact Michele Nortonen at 694-6030.

Wilmington High
 The first Pac meeting of the new year will be held September 24 at 7:30 p.m. in the high school library. Guest speakers will be Mrs. Blodgett and Mr. Dicey, who will discuss the accreditation process. All parents are invited to attend.

Wildwood School
 We are pleased to report that the opening of the school year proceeded very smoothly. We are excited to see our veteran students returning after their summer vacation and offer a special welcome to our incoming kindergarten class.

Wildwood School has many new faces this year and not all of them are found in kindergarten.

Janet Senesi, one of our first grade teachers, comes to us after having previously taught several years at the Woburn Street School. Joan Connelly, an experienced teacher in Wilmington, transferred this fall from the Shawsheen School. Diane Lee begins her fourth year in Wilmington by teaching art to our elementary students. Anne Keeler is the reading specialist, along with Martha Logan. Anne brings a vast background in classroom teaching as well as reading. Frank Lintini, a former Wilmington High school teacher, is Wildwood's full time counselor. He has spent these past few weeks acquainting himself with our staff, students and parents.

Two seniors from Fitchburg State College, Kathy Murphy and Julie O'Connor, have begun their teaching practicum this semester. Kathy's cooperating teacher is Anna Kilfoyle; Julie's is Bunny Kelly.

Several staff members have continued their graduate studies after having received their master's degree this past spring. Anna Kilfoyle, Chris O'Donnell and Eileen Lemieux attended summer courses focusing on whole language and childhood curriculum and technique. Brian Smith studied economics education at Salem State. MaryLou Sousa is currently enrolled in a reading workshop centering on children's literature for grades four through six. All of these teachers have incorporated newly acquired learning strategies into their repertoire of teaching techniques.

Also busy were Maureen O'Hara and Sue Zrakett who pursued their interested administrative courses. Our first Pac meeting was held Wednesday evening, September 12. At this meeting a schedule of enrichment programs and family activities was set for the school year. We welcome the many new parents who attended our first meeting. Your support and enthusiasm is most encouraging.

Open house will be held at all the elementary schools Thursday, September 27 from 7 to 9 p.m. Parents are invited to meet with Mr. Arseneault from 7 to 7:15 in the school cafeteria and then to proceed to the classrooms from 7:15 to 8:15 to meet with their children's teachers. Refreshments will be served from 8:15 to 9 in the cafeteria.

There will be a bake sale held during the open house from 7 to 8:20. Volunteers and prepriced baked goods are most welcome.

The next Pac meeting will be Thursday, October 4, from 1:30 to 3 p.m. Babysitting will be available.

College fair

Wilmington High School seniors will have the opportunity to attend the College Fair at Merrimack College on September 25. They will be accompanied to the College Fair by the following members of the Guidance Department staff: Florence J. Athanasia, chairman and counselors, Gennaro DiSarcina, Julie Capozzi and Annette Curley.

Over 10,000 high school seniors, parents, teachers and guidance counselors are expecting to tour the exhibits of more than 250 colleges and universities on Monday, Sept. 24 from 7 to 9 p.m. and on Tuesday, Sept. 25 from 9 a.m. to noon.

In addition to the representatives and exhibits of the more than 250 participating colleges and universities from across the country, this year's college fair will include information on how to qualify and apply for various forms of financial aid available to college students.

This is the 12th year that Merrimack and the New England Association of College Admissions Counselors (N.E.A.C.A.C.) will host colleges throughout New England this fall.

Prior to the field trip, college bound seniors will meet with the Guidance Department staff to receive information regarding the college application process, scholarships, etc.

Woburn Street School
 Welcome back! The 1990-1991 school year is off to a great start. Preparations for the first day of school were outstanding. Our sincere thanks to the students, parents, and staff for their extra efforts in making this day a special one.

Students at the Woburn Street School were not only greeted by old friends and teachers, but also by the beautiful new stage curtains in our cafeteria. Many thanks to the Pac for donating them. They will greatly enhance our school programs and performances.

September 21, 1990 the fourth and fifth graders will be participating in the town walkathon. For those of you new to our school, the Dare program (A Drug Awareness Program) will be presented to the fifth grade students on September 25, 1990 under the instruction of Police Officer James White.

Open house will be held on Thursday, September 27, 1990 from 7 to 9 p.m. Parents are cordially invited to meet their children's teacher any time between 7 and 8:15 p.m. in the classroom. Refreshments will be served in the cafeteria from 8:15 to 9 p.m. We hope you will be able to join us. During open house the Woburn Street School Playground committee will be selling raffle tickets for a Cape Cod getaway weekend (donated by American Traveler). Your anticipated support of the Woburn Street playground is greatly appreciated.

The Woburn Street School computer lab is in place. Pac members Ann Falanga and Joan Oatis have developed a plan for providing first, second and third graders with instructions. Volunteers are needed to help implement this program. We sincerely appreciate any time and effort you can contribute.

North Intermediate

All parents are encouraged to attend our back to school open house night on September 25, 1990 from 7 to 8:30. During this important evening you will have the opportunity to meet staff and hear about the exciting changes for this year at the middle school.

Please be advised that parents should call in student absences prior to 7:45 a.m. An answering machine is available to parents as early as 6 a.m. Thank you for your cooperation.

 The following teachers are newly assigned to the North Intermediate faculty: Mr. Steven Marino, Mrs. Melissa Cahill, Mrs. Maryanne Brennan, Mr. Thomas Bailey, Mrs. Margaret Giordano, Mrs. Robyn Maislin, Mr. Joseph Plassman, Ms. Marie Shack and Mr. Neil Roberts. We welcome them to the North!

Parent and student handbooks will be handed out in the next few weeks. We hope to have new and valuable information contained in them for parents and students of the North and West Intermediate Schools.

As always the North is looking to expand the role that volunteerism plays within the schools. Parents are encouraged to participate by volunteering at the school. Some areas of need are general office help, library assistance, parent newsletters, fundraising activities and more.

Pac meetings are held one evening each month in the library. There will be a membership drive for the Pac during open house. Your involvement is important to the school.

Parents interested in helping with the Craft Fair/Baseball Card Show on November 10, 1990, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., should contact the school. Tables are available for vendors. We hope that many will help with this exciting event.

Shawsheen Tech

Saturday October 13 is the date of the five year reunion for the Class of 1985, Shawsheen Tech. Reunion festivities will follow the Saturday homecoming football game and other activities at the school, with the Class of 1985 party at the Days Inn in Woburn starting at 6:30 p.m. A buffet dinner will follow a social hour and a disc jockey will play until midnight. Rooms are available at a discounted rate through the Days Inn, (617) 935-7110.

September 20 is the deadline for reservations and dinner payment of $32 per person. Alumni should make checks payable to Shawsheen Tech Class of 1985 and send them to Andre Bouley, 450 Middlesex Turnpike, Billerica, MA 01821. Several dozen alumni are also among the "missing" that class officers have been unable to locate. Please contact Andre at (508) 671-9560 if you have information

New in No. Reading

It's 300,000 sq. ft. of US Postal facility

By DOUGLAS WOOD-BOYLE

The new Middlesex-Essex General Mail Facility will be twice as large as the present facility now servicing the 018 and 019 zip code areas and is set to open far ahead of schedule.

United States Postal Service (USPS) Marketing Director Patrick Ring and Facility Coordinator Linda D'Ambrosia announced this week that despite a New Year's Day fire at the site, the facility will be partially operating on Monday and almost fully operational by Oct. 1. The project was started in May, 1989 and was scheduled for completion on Nov. 24.

At 300,000 square feet, the building is twice the size of the present 11-year-old facility on Washington Street in Woburn. It sits on 60 acres of land, behind the former Ames Department Store on Route 28. Ring said that the new one-story facility is not quite as large as the five-story South Postal Annex in South Boston - it is much more space efficient.

According to Ring, the North Reading facility will contain the newest state-of-the-art mail handling equipment available to the postal service. He added that, with the opening of the building, all the functions of collecting and distributing mail that is now done in two buildings in Woburn will be contained under one roof.

Ring said that the plans for the building include having the mail carriers from Woburn and Winchester being dispatched from the North Reading facility by February. Carriers from Burlington, Lynnfield and Wilmington will start to use the facility in March.

According to Ring, all the present facilities in those communities are "space deficient." He added that buildings are presently being leased in Burlington and Woburn because no land could be found for purchase in those communities.

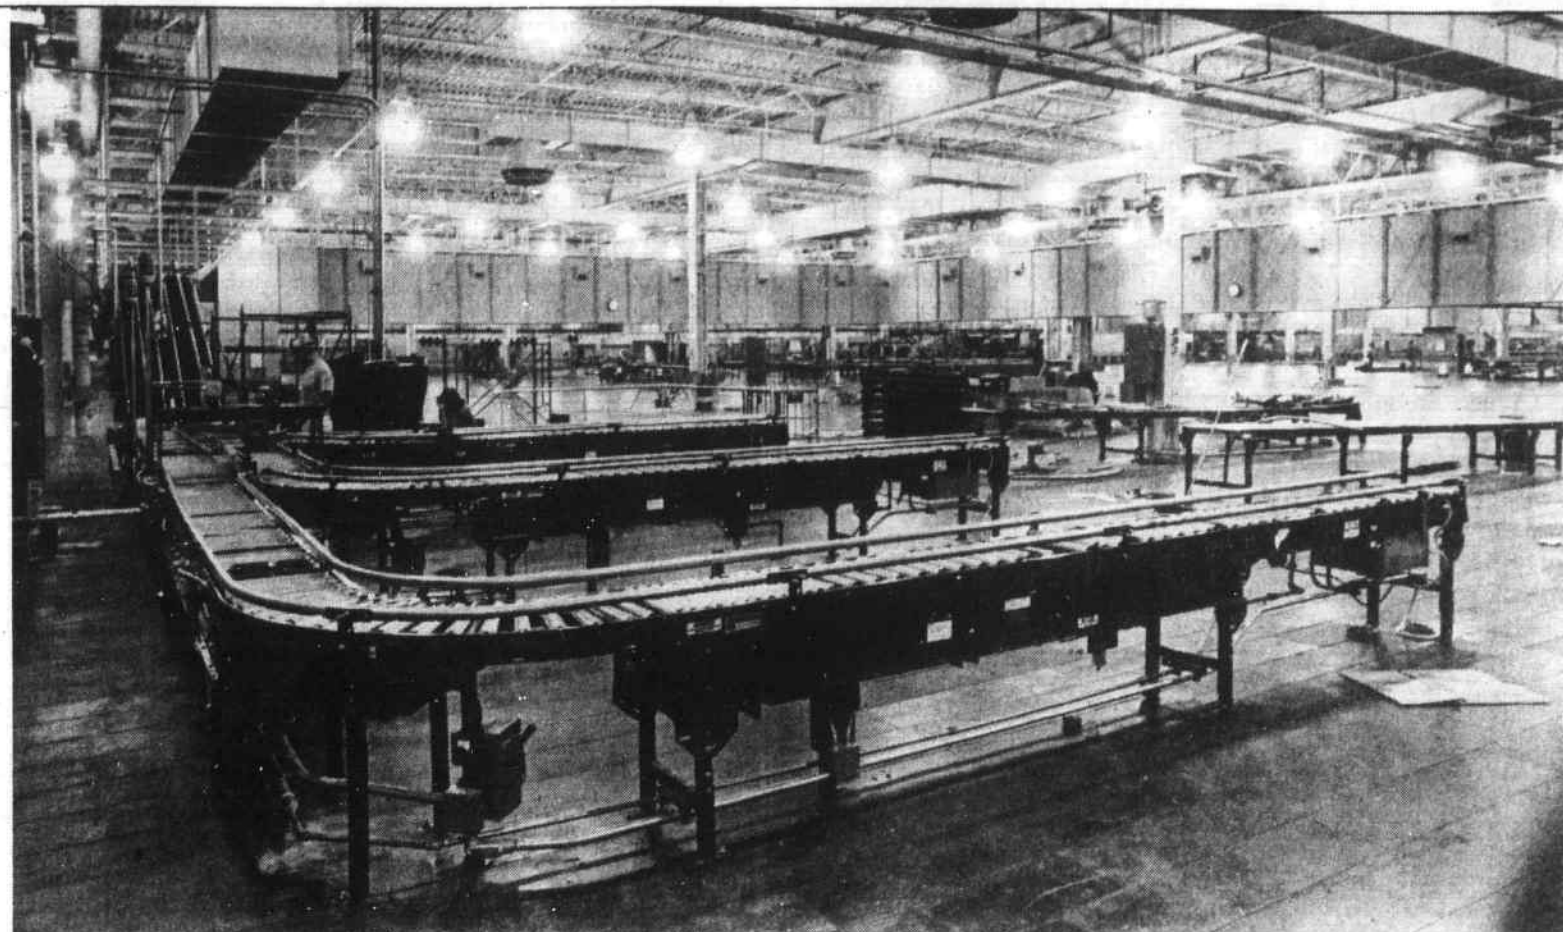

All of the main postal facilities in the area communities will remain where they are and will continue to provide customer service facilities as well as be the dispatch point for those carriers that service the downtown commercial areas.

The present general mail facility will still accept some bulk mailing, but for the most part it will be used for the areas administration offices.

Ring said that the new facility will employ about 900 people throughout the three shifts that it will be operating.

Trucks that will bring in and take out the mail will use the 32-bays that will start the conveyor belt system. The system will be a first step in speeding up the distri-

Postal facility to S-4

THE MIDDLESEX-ESSEX General Mail Facility in North Reading will have twice the space that is now available in the Woburn facility. The empty space in the above photo will soon be filled with the latest state-of-the-art mail processing equipment. The conveyor belts are part of the miles of belts that will be coming in from the 32 truck bays, delivering mail to various points in the processing and cancellation system. (Don Young photo)

ROVING

This is a story about one young woman's battle with addiction. It is also a story about one man's attempt to help this woman overcome her addiction. This man - the woman's boyfriend - has one great obstacle preventing him from being truly successful in his attempt: he has very little understanding of what addiction is all about. For both people, the word that is most synonymous with their lives is "struggle." Their story is not unique; it is, however, like many similar stories, a tragedy. It begins in June, 1989, at a restaurant on the North Shore. David (the names in this story have been changed) works there as a bartender. On a particular early summer night, his life was about to take an astonishing twist...

Dinner had been quiet that night. Most of the waitresses had gone home early, and the bar staff had been reduced to just David. His handful of customers all had drinks in front of them, and they seemed content to chit-chat amongst themselves. A couple of singles nibbled on chips, and glued their eyes to the tv sets, which were tuned into the Red Sox game. Comfortable with the flow of the bar activity, David also turned his attention to the baseball game.

Suddenly three new customers appeared in the lounge. David erected himself from the slouched position he'd assumed, and prepared to wait on them. There was one man, with dark, wavy hair and a luxuriant mustache who appeared to be in his early forties. He was accompanied by two attractive blonde-haired women.

MR. and MRS. JOHN GREICHEN (Patricia Cronan) of Reading announce the birth of their daughter, Tara Patricia, on August 31, 1990. Grandparent honors are extended to Mr. and Mrs. James Cronan of Riverside, Rhode Island and Mr. and Mrs. John Greichen of Newport, Rhode Island.

MR. and MRS. GARY KRAVETZ (Audrey Lahti) of Wilmington announce the birth of their daughter, Brooke Lahti, on September 5, 1990. Grandparent honors are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Myer Kravetz of Swampscott and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Lahti of Quincy.

MR. and MRS. ANDREW VANTI (Linda Silva) of Pelham announce the birth of their daughter, Allison Lynn, on September 3, 1990. Grandparent honors are extended to Mrs. Gladys Silva of Lowell, Mrs. Pat Molberg of North Reading and Mr. Andrew Vanti of North Attleboro.

Parental involvement is key to kids

Parental involvement in their children's education is one of the building blocks of success, according to many educators. This aspect of a child's schooling is currently the focus of much attention and research, virtually all leading to the same conclusion. This comes after years of efforts to improve schools with more money, better teachers and stiffer requirements.

"A child's attitude toward learning begins in the home," according to Dr. Raymond Huntington, founder and President of The Huntington Learning Centers. "It is parents' responsibility to stress the importance of education. Their active involvement in the educational process definitely makes a difference in a student's success."

Here are some suggestions:

1. Establish a regular time for your child to study. Having a specific starting and ending time shows that it is a priority to you and is an integral part of your child's daily schedule.

2. Create the right environment for learning. A quiet place with a desk or table and good light is all that's needed. Keep extra pencils and scrap paper handy. Absolutely no TV or music.

3. Talk to your child about their school day. Listen carefully. If they see that it's important to you and you take them seriously, they will take it seriously also.

4. Get involved with the school. Join the PTA/PTO. Ask the school what's being done to encourage parental involvement. Get to know your children's teachers and their evaluation of your children's skills and abilities.

5. Set a good example. Leisure reading is an important activity in support of a good education. Read newspapers, magazines and books. Take trips together to the library.

6. Acknowledge good efforts as well as successes. Knowing you recognize their efforts will encourage children to keep trying. Help them recognize why the efforts failed, and what it will take to succeed next time.

Individual testing and tutoring is available in reading, math, phonics, study skills, writing, spelling, SAT prep. For information, contact The Huntington Learning Center in Danvers at (508) 777-1533.

Drains Run Slow?

You'll never have a slow running, or clogged drain again! The secret? Clean drains don't run slow.

Slow drains, or periodic clogs, are SIGNALS that a thick layer of GOOK is choking your pipes. Grease, hair, and other waste stick to your pipes, with every use. This gook deposits along the entire length of the pipe. It chokes your pipes gradually, as it gets thicker and thicker.

Conventional drain openers can't fix slow drains. They react chemically on the surface of the gook. To be effective, they must remain in contact with the waste. Even a small tunnel through the gook lets them flow out to the sewer, leaving the gook behind.

In the past, the only way to remove this build-up was to roofer your pipes. An expensive, temporary measure.

Now, with just a few minutes each month, you can easily clean out your pipes... and KEEP them clean with Plumb Clean. Its totally unique formula clings, and penetrates deep into the gook. That is what allows it to liquefy even years of build-up. Plumb Clean will clean the entire length of your pipes. It will make your drains run like new, when used as directed. This penetrating action is so revolutionary, we stand behind Plumb Clean with a money-back guarantee!

Saves Money. A 1 lb. container of Plumb Clean holds up to 41 drain treatments. Even if drain openers could fix slow drains, it would take over 10 quart bottles to get the same number of treatments. Plumb Clean costs about 35¢ per treatment. We don't know of anything that cleans drains for less.

Safe Too. Conventional drain openers are dangerous chemicals. They can injure eyes on contact. They can release deadly vapors, in some situations. Some may damage your fixtures. Plumb Clean will not burn skin, or eyes. It will not release harmful fumes. When used as directed, it is 100% safe for people, and of course, all plumbing.

So, if your drains are giving you a SIGNAL, act now. Get safe, guaranteed Plumb Clean today!

About the Towns

By PHYLLIS NISSEN

STONEHAM - Stoneham's Unicorn Recreational Facilities made a combined profit last fiscal year of $350,000, an increase of $67,000 over the year before.

The Stoneham Arena made a profit of $67,000, up $21,000 over last year. And the most profitable venture continues to be the Unicorn Golf Course which attracts an extremely high proportion of non-Stoneham residents.

TEWKSBURY - "With little discussion and no fanfare," Tewksbury selectmen have voted to allow alcohol sales on Sunday, as State law now permits. Tewksbury is one of several Essex, Middlesex and Worcester county towns within 10 miles of New Hampshire.

READING - In preparation for the curbside recycling to begin in October, Reading's Human Services Director Ruth Cogan has instituted a Block Leader Program which will use volunteers to distribute plastic recycling bins this month and to survey homeowners early next year to see how many are actually recycling.

WILMINGTON - Now that the Burlington Avenue bridge is completely closed, a Wilmington fire engine is stationed at Sweetheart Plastics, giving first-response protection to those living on the west side of the railroad tracks.

The bridge could be closed for four or five months.

NORTH READING - North Reading Town Hall is now closed to the public after 4 p.m. on first Thursdays because of budget restrictions and lack of demand. Its regular business hours are 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., Mondays through Thursdays and 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Fridays.

WOBBURN - "Samantha's Strollers," named after the dog who accompanies them on their twice-a-week rounds, is Woburn's newest group of athletes - all over 50 and all pledged to "keep moving" through walking.

For more information, contact Diane Sandberg at (617)935-5329 - the Governor's Cup Race is right around the corner.

LYNNFIELD - Lynnfield's voluntary recycling program is now underway, its cost picked up by Saugus Disposal. Open all day, every day, the recycling dumpsters - for newspapers, magazines, cardboard, clean and colored glass bottles, and tin cans - are located in the Town Hall parking lot.

BURLINGTON - Burlington Rotary Club's new officers are: Dick Cooper, president; Mike Gilbert, vice president; Gordon Jameson, treasurer; Mert Brandes, secretary; Nick Helides, assistant secretary; Gary Ruping, president-elect; and Larry Lundgren, past president.

WINCHESTER - Dell Publishing Company has just published "Satan's Harvest," co-authored by Winchester native and free-lance journalist Mark Merenda. The initial printing of this "true story of demonic possession" consists of 100,000 copies.

SENIOR CENTER - Melrose-Wakefield Hospital has inaugurated a new medical transportation service which includes round-trip transportation for ambulatory patients to medical appointments with a hospital physician or its outpatient service.

The transportation operates in Wakefield on Thursdays from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., with appointments made only through the physician's office or the outpatient clinic.

Homecoming Day at Austin Prep

Austin Preparatory School will hold its annual Homecoming Day on the school's Reading campus on Saturday, September 29. Free coffee and donuts will be served beginning at 9 a.m. At 10 a.m. the varsity soccer team will meet Bishop Fenwick on the lower soccer field.

At 11 a.m. the Austin Run will begin. This annual event is open to all Austin families, current students and their families, and alumni. There is a 2 1/2 mile course, with a shorter run for younger participants. Visitors at Homecoming will be able to purchase a lunch of hot dogs, hamburgers, chips, and soft drinks at a booth sponsored by the Friends of Austin. The booth will be open from noon to 3:30 p.m.

A varsity football game between Austin and St. Mary's High School begins the afternoon festivities at 1:30 p.m. There will be free admission for all Austin families. At 5 p.m. a Mass will be celebrated in the Austin chapel. The Homecoming celebration will conclude with a dinner dance in the school cafeteria. The event is sponsored by the Athletic Association.

Additional information can be obtained by calling the school during office hours and asking for bution process.

Two conveyor machines can be operated from six doors, with the machines able to go right inside the trucks. This will save some of extra steps and lifting that presently has to be done in Woburn.

D'Ambrosia said that the belts will bring the mail directly to the cancellation area. At that point a new machine, representing a technological advance, will separate the business mail from the handwritten variety.

Further machines will be able to read the zip-codes and the addresses, especially on those pieces of business mail that have bar-codes, and further separate it into area routes.

According to Ring, eventually the USPS hopes to eliminate all hand sorting duties.

Ring said the technology that will be used in North Reading is the forefront of change that has come very slowly since the days of Ben Franklin.

"We will see more change in the next five years, than we have in the last 200 years," he said.

Noting the need for the change, Ring said that the Woburn facility is presently handling 2.3 million to 2.6 million pieces of mail per-day.

With the use of technology, cost of processing the mail has been reduced from $35-per-thousand-pieces when it was hand-sorted, to about $14.50-per-thousand-pieces. In the future it could be brought down to about $2.50-per-thousand-pieces.

Ring said the USPS is trying to be a good neighbor to North Reading. He explained that as a mitigating factor for the additional truck traffic, the USPS has agreed to install a traffic light along Route 28. It will be paid for by the Postal Service and installation is awaiting approval from the state Department of Public Works (DPW).

He added that the DPW is also putting a higher priority on a project to lower the grade of a bridge over the railroad tracks which abut the building.

When asked how the additional trucks will affect the traffic in the area, Ring noted that most of the work is done between the hours of 2 p.m. and 6 a.m., most of which are off-hours along the road.

D'Ambrosia said that with the number of employees that will be using the facility, a Beautification Committee has been utilized during the construction process. The committee is made up of employees from the existing facilities that will be using the new building.

Among the ideas that the committee has come up with is the use of artwork done by USPS employees. These will be placed around the normally gray walls of the different departments that make up the sorting and cancellation areas.

The artwork will consist of a paintings of USPS stamps that have been done by Sheila Ste. Marie and a collection of outdoor scenes that have been painted by Jackie Bowring.

D'Ambrosia also said that the Committee has been busy putting together a listing of the businesses in the area so that postal employees will be able to shop during their breaks or eat at nearby restaurants.

However, eating at a nearby restaurant may not be necessary as D'Ambrosia proudly showed the new cafeteria that the employees will be using. It is located in the front of the building and one wall is completely glass-bricked to allow plenty of light. The cafeteria will seat a total of 220 employees in smoking and non-smoking sections.

D'Ambrosia said that a salad bar, deli sandwiches, and vending machines will be available. She also said that for further employee convenience the building will have three satellite areas where vending machines for hot and cold drinks will be available.

Another mitigating factor done by the Postal service during the construction was the complete clean-up of the property in the rear of the building. That property included wetlands and a small pond.

D'Ambrosia said that cars and old refrigerators had to be hauled from the property before any of the work could be done.

She had high praise for the workmen hired by the Washington D.C. based, George Hyman Construction Co. (general contractors for the facility). They were careful to return any wildlife to the natural areas during the construction and landscaping. That wildlife included rabbits, Canada Geese, snapping turtles, ducks and others.

Blueberry bushes on the property were found to have Doves nesting in them.

As for the front of the property, D'Ambrosia said that they will soon start cleaning up the area where the Ames Store was located.

According to Ring, a customer service store may be installed in the small building at the front which used to house a bank.

The USPS will be setting their sights on building a similar facility in Waltham which will take more of the load from the South Postal Annex and hopefully speed mail delivery throughout the area in the future.

ROVING

one who appeared to be in her mid-thirties, the other in her late twenties. All three were dressed casually - the two women in short denim skirts, which David spotted immediately, and they seemed to be out for a relaxing time.

The man approached the bar, and David took their order. After serving the drinks, David made his customary offer of menus, which the man refused graciously, indicating that they had already eaten dinner. Clutching three drinks in his hands, the man thanked David, who indicated he'd start a tab for them, and joined his two female companions.

Without being obvious, David casually observed the seating arrangements of his new customers, attempting to learn which one of the two women was with the man with the mustache. David found it difficult to tell: The man sat opposite both women, who sat side by side at the table. David had an ulterior motive: He found the younger blonde attractive, and being unattached, he toyed with the idea of introducing himself. If he could discover for sure that she was not with the man with the mustache.

From time to time, in between waiting on his other guests and casually glimpsing the Red Sox game, David flashed sidelong glances at the party of three. A couple of times, he sensed that they were on to his curiosity. He actually hoped the tall blonde whom he was eyeing had picked up on his glances, and would in some way let him know whether she was available or not. The one thing about being in the public WORKMAN ARE PUTTING the finishing touches on the front of the new General Mail Facility in North Reading. eye a lot, David realized, was you developed terrific extrasensory perception. Hopefully, she was reading his mind at that exact moment.

At once, the tall blonde appeared at the end of the bar. She had set down three empty glasses, and was waiting patiently to attract David's attention. He spotted her and dashed to her instantly. She ordered another round, which David made and then added to their tab. Before she returned to the table, she hesitated and smiled lingeringly at the bartender. He smiled back, again hoping that she was reading his mind.

He continued to watch her, now allowing his eyes to rest upon her longer and more openly. At one point, the tall blonde looked directly back at David, and then made a comment to her two friends. They all glanced over at the bartender, and he switched his attention to the tv set instantly. When he got around to glancing back at her, she was once again smiling at him. He was certain that she was not with the man, since she would never respond so overly to his eye contact. Still, to be safe (and to not risk a tip!), he remained at ease behind the bar.

When the three finished their second round of drinks, they stood up to leave. The man with the mustache asked for the tab, while the two blonde women stood near the entrance to the lounge. The tall blonde smiled softly at David, and then disappeared from view. The man paid the bill and left a couple of dollars on the bar. He thanked David and returned his change to his wallet. Just as he was about to leave to catch up with his companions, he retrieved a folded piece of paper from his shirt pocket, and placed it on the bar.

"Give her a call," he told David, who reacted with surprise. "She's a great lady. She's been through a lot, and she deserves to meet somebody nice. So give her a call."

The man also disappeared from the lounge. David picked up the paper, unfolded it, and read the message. There was the name Pauline and a telephone number written on it. David refolded it, and tucked it into his back pocket. His intuition had once again been right.

The next morning David gave Pauline a call. At first she seemed reticent, explaining that she had been embarrassed by her friend's decision to hand out her phone number. David reassured her that there was no reason to feel embarrassed, that he was happy her friends had made the move. After that, their conversation picked up momentum.

David learned that Pauline was also in the service business, working as a waitress at a fine dining establishment, and that she was the daughter of a policeman. David and she had also shared another common experience. They were both divorced. Pauline, however, had taken something more out of her union than David had taken out of his.

"I have three children," she told him. "Two girls and a boy."

At first David was shocked by the news, then accepted it, realizing that he was not, after all, exactly calling to ask her and the three kids to move in. "You must've gotten married very young," he said.

"I was seventeen," she said. "Lisa is ten, Jessica is six, and Patrick is four. Yeah, they're a lot to handle, but I wouldn't give them up for anything."

David decided to change the subject; he'd heard enough about kids for one morning. His next query reflected back on something Pauline's friend had said the night before. "Your friend said something that made me curious," he said. "He told me that you've been through a lot. What exactly did he mean by that? Was he referring to your divorce?"

WEIGHT-MANAGEMENT PROGRAM AT NEMH

A positive, upbeat weight-management program is being offered this fall at New England Memorial Hospital (NEMH), Stoneham.

"Trim Down, Perk Up" incorporates three proven elements for lasting weight loss: lifestyle changes, nutrition education/balanced diet planning and exercise.

"Trim Down, Perk Up" meets for eight weeks on Mondays from 7 to 8:30 p.m. beginning September 24. For more information, or to register, call the NEMH Center for Health Promotion at (617) 979-7057.

CRAFT WORKSHOPS ON ANTIQUITIES

The Society for the Preservation of New England Antiquities (SPNEA) will present three hands-on craft workshops at The Vale, 185 Lyman Street, Waltham. The workshops will be held from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. on the first three Wednesdays in October. Participants should bring their own lunches and beverages will be provided. The registration fee includes a tour of the Lyman Estate and the historic greenhouses. Registration fee: $40 for SPNEA members; $50 for non-members. For information and a brochure call SPNEA at (617) 227-3956. Pre-registration required.

The three workshops will be: Wednesday, October 3 - Simple

Bookbinding, Faith Harrison, Instructor;

Wednesday, October 10 - Stenciling, Elisabeth Craft Peck, Instructor;

Wednesday, October 17 - Japanning - a 20th-century adaptation of the Japanning done in Colonial America, Nancy Brewka Clark, Instructor.

VICTORIAN SOCIETY 1990 HOUSE TOUR

"Malden's Works in Progress" is the theme of the Malden Victorian Society's upcoming house tour scheduled for Sunday, September 23, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Rain or Shine.

The third such event sponsored by the Society, the tour is a combination walking and bus tour which will showcase five 19th Century Malden homes and reflect a variety of Victorian architectural styles. Also open to the public will be the renowned H.H. Richardson designed Malden Public Library and its impressive collection of paintings. The hundred year old Sacred Hearts Church will be featured on the tour after 1 p.m.

The tour is aimed at giving the public an insight into the commitment that the home owners have demonstrated in restoring their homes to their original beauty while meeting the needs of their modern families. Tour goers will have an opportunity to see firsthand the restoration process as they visit each home on the tour.

The Malden Public Library is the Information Center for the House Tour on the day of the tour. The converse Memorial Library is a National Historic Landmark. The City's most important architectural treasure, the Library was the last building designed by noted architect H.H. Richardson and it contains a unique collection of Richardson furniture. The Library also houses one of the finest collections of paintings in the country.

For more information about the house tour, or to purchase tickets call or write the Victorian Society of Malden, Inc. at 91 Main Street, Malden 02148, (617) 322-8062 or (617) 321-0180.

Tickets are $7.50 if purchased in advance, $9 on the day of the tour. Tickets will be on sale at the Library on the day of the tour.

AUDITION FOR "THE FANTASTIKS"

The longest running musical in New York is coming to Burlington. The Burlington Players are holding auditions for "The Fantastiks," the romantic, silly and absolutely superb musical comedy that has delighted millions for over 20 years of Off-Broadway performances. The auditions will be Sunday, September 16, 1 p.m. and Monday, September 17 at 7 p.m., Park Playhouse, Edgemere Avenue, Burlington. For more information call (617) 272-2524.

"The Fantastiks" is the tongue-in-cheek story of parents (Bellamy and Mortimer) who conspire to bring their children (Matt and Louisa) together by keeping them apart. The plot works - forbidden fruit is sweet and the boy and girl fall in love. Then a mysterious stranger (El Gallo) arrives to lure the youngsters off to worldly pleasures. After much mayhem (provided by the Old Actor and the Indian, assisted by the Mute), the play delivers a bittersweet but happy ending. The whole is enhanced by clever, lulling music, including "Try to Remember," "They Were You," "Soon It's Gonna Rain" and "Plant a Radish." "The Fantastiks" contains choice roles for up to four women and six men in a broad age and vocal range. (Please note: in addition to Luisa, the roles of Bellamy, the Mute and Mortimer may be cast as women.)

Those trying out should bring two prepared, contrasting songs with sheet music in your key. Clothing and shoes suitable for a dance/movement audition is also advised.

"Fantastiks" will be performed Thursday through Sunday for four weeks, beginning November 2. It will be the second in the Burlington Players' season, following September's madcap "British farce, 'Run for Your Wife.'" In March, the mystical and magic "Dark of the Moon" has a three week run. The season ends with the May production of "The Boys Next Door," an outstanding and highly acclaimed comedy/drama. Subscriptions for the four show season are on sale now by calling (617) 229-2649.

For more information on auditions or the Burlington Players, call (617) 272-2524. The Burlington Players are an all-volunteer, community theater.

The next series of classes will be held on October 3, 10 and 17 at 7 p.m. at Winchester Hospital. For more, course fee and registration information, please call Winchester Hospital's Education Department at (617) 756-2220.

PARENT AIDES NEEDED FOR SUPPORT

If you care about people, have a little time to give, and know how difficult being a parent can be, the Parent Aide Program needs you.

The Parent Aide Program at Catholic Charities/North Suburban is seeking volunteers to serve as role models, supportive friends and caring visitors to some of the many parents who are under constant stress. They are trying to cope with everyday problems and pressures of parenting without the support system, family backing and even knowledge about child care so many people take for granted.

Training will start on September 20, at the First Congregational Church on Church Street in Stoneham. Call Jean Goguen at Catholic Charities at (617) 593-2312 for information.

LECTURE ON CHILDREN'S LITERATURE

A Reading and Children's Literature Lecture Series will be held at the Salem State College Library Function Room on Tuesday, September 25 from 6:30 to 10 p.m. The featured speaker will be AVI, author of 24 books for children and young adults, including "The Fighting Ground," "S.O.R. Losers," "Romeo and Juliet," "Together (and Alive) at Last."

There will be a donation of $5 for undergraduates and $10 for graduate students and others. For information, call Kathleen McIsaac (508) 741-6317.

EATING AND EMOTIONS IS TOPIC

A free lecture will be given on Monday evening, September 24, at 7:30 p.m. entitled Eating and Emotions. The lecture will be held at Riverside Counseling Center, 259 Walnut Street, Newtonville, Room 11. The lecture will discuss normal eating and techniques for identifying and coping with situations and relationships that lead to overeating. The presenter will be Sheila Kempler, Ph.D.

There is no pre-registration. For more information please call 964-6933.

BANK COLLECTION AT THE MUSEUM

A Penny Saved is on display September 30 through April 7, 1991 at the Museum of Our National Heritage in Lexington and features the mechanical bank collection of Richard W. Withington.

Mechanical banks taught children how to save while providing them with entertainment. Humor, sports and daily activities were the most popular themes for banks, while the darker side of life was reflected in racial and ethnic stereotypes. Today, topics captured in iron by manufacturers of mechanical banks provide us with a study of 19th century attitudes and events.

John Hall of Watertown is credited with the first known cast-iron mechanical bank. His patent for the "Hall Excelsior Bank" was issued in 1869. The first known patent for a mechanical bank is dated ten months earlier, but James Serrill's bank was made of wood and is not known to have been produced in quantity.

Collectors of mechanical banks focus on the period of 1869 to the start of World War II. The Mechanical Bank Collectors of American Club uses 1935 as the cut-off date. The following is their official definition of a mechanical bank: "To be considered collectible a mechanical bank must have been produced and sold commercially. It must have been made available to the general public and intended for the use by children as a savings device. To qualify as a mechanical bank there must be interaction of the coin and some moving part of the bank."

Mr. Withington has collected banks for over 20 years. His collection numbers more than 100 examples and is on permanent display at the Valley Bank of Hillsboro, New Hampshire.

For more information, call the museum at (617) 861-6559 or (617) 861-0729 (recording).

SPIN AN ADVENTURE AT SPINNING DAY

The ancient craft of spinning will be demonstrated at the Fourth Annual Spinning Day from 1 to 5 p.m., Sunday, September 30, at the Museum of American Textile History.

Members of the Boston Area Spinners and Dyers will demonstrate their skill with wheels, spindles and fiber and will teach visitors to spin. As an extra attraction this year, a flock of sheep from the Essex County 4-H Club will be grazing on the front lawn so that visitors can see and touch wool in its "raw" state. The Essex County Needlecraft Guild will exhibit and demonstrate smocking, doll clothes making, quilting, petit-point and crocheting.

This family day of exploration, fun and education will give visitors a chance to observe and try several types of spinning, from the drop spindle first used in ancient Mesopotamia, to the Medieval Great Wheel and the more common bobbin and flyer spinning wheel first designed by Leonardo DaVinci.

Visitors also may view the Museum's new exhibit, "Celebration and Remembrance: Commemorative Textiles in America, 1790-1990," which features 73 unusual and colorful textiles that commemorate 200 years of American experience.

Admission is $2 for adults, $1 for children and senior citizens. For more information, please call the Museum at (508) 686-0191.

GRANDPARENTS AS PARENTS MEETING

A support group for grandparents raising their grandchildren will hold its first meeting on Saturday, October 13 at the Lawrence Library, 51 Lawrence St., (across for Lawrence High School) Lawrence.

The meeting will be held in the auditorium between 2 and 4 p.m. INNKEEPERS' REGISTER IS AVAILABLE

The second edition of "The Innkeepers' Register," a guide to 210 country inns of North America, has been published by The Berkshire Traveller Press for The Independent Innkeepers' Association and is now available at bookstores and from the publisher.

"The Register" is once again organized alphabetically by state and then by regions of Canada. Under each inn's listing is a photograph of the inn, a descriptive thumbnail sketch, number of rooms, rates and meal plans, directions, address and phone numbers, and nearby cultural and recreational attractions.

In addition, a special new section on over fifty recommended country house hotels, B&B's, inns, manor houses and small hotels in Great Britain has been added for the inn aficionado who travels abroad.

"The Innkeepers' Register," second edition, in the new red cover, is available at any member inn, through bookstores or from The Berkshire Traveller Press (1-800-344-5244) for $6.95.

FANEUIL HALL A BUSY PLACE

Although the Island of Bali (and Indonesia for that matter) seems worlds apart from Boston, the miles will melt away in September as Dance Umbrella, Faneuil Hall Marketplace and Marketplace Center welcome the Sultan's royal entourage at free, public performances at Faneuil Hall Marketplace Center on September 22 and 25.

These free, public events will preview portions of the "Children of Bali" and the Court Dance of Java performances taking place at the Emerson Majestic Theater and Boston's Opera House, presented by Dance Umbrella.

Activities and dates are as follows: Children of Bali - September 22, 11 a.m. to 2 p.m.; Official Festival Opening - September 25, 4 p.m.; Wayang Kulit - September 25, 8 p.m. to 12 midnight.

FALL CHILDREN'S PROGRAMS ON ANIMALS

Harvard Museum's afterschool and preschool programs get into full swing this year with an exciting new program for 9-11 year olds - Fun With Live Animals. Each week this class will examine a different aspect of animal life by observing a live animal and by looking at the Museum's exhibits. The class will meet for six Thursdays, September 27 through November 1, 3:30 to 4:45 p.m. Fee is $60.

And, 6 to 8 year olds can have a lot of fun solving the mystery of Skeletons In Our Closet. In this class, you'll discover how a scientist determines where an animal lived, what it ate, and how it moved, simply by examining its bare bones. Class will run for six Tuesdays, October 2 through November 6, 3:30 to 4:45 p.m. Fee is $60.

Preschoolers (3 1/2 to 5) and their parents can also learn about the world of bones by using the Museum's collections and by working with hands-on materials. In our Bodies and Bones class, you'll create your own skeletons and learn how your body works. Class will meet for four Saturdays, October 13 through November 3, 10:20 a.m. to 12 noon. Fee $65, includes one child and one parent.

Advance registration is required. All classes are held at the Museum, 26 Oxford Street, Cambridge. For more information, call (617) 495-2341.

School Notes

by phyllis nissen

—Winchester town officials have agreed to the following plan for Winchester Public Schools in the '90's: to assure quality education, Winchester should seek to maintain current programs, services and pupil-teacher ratios; provide equity in class sizes; eliminate split grades; and maintain five elementary schools for the "foreseeable" future.

The Winchester Board of Selectmen and School Committee will meet at least quarterly with the Town Moderator to discuss educational quality, projected revenues, and alternatives for additional revenue.

Although all parties are working together to achieve the above goals, without additional funding beyond current levels for fiscal year 1992, the town will be unable to meet many of those goals.

—The Wakefield School Department has issued bus passes to all Wakefield public school and St. Joseph School pupils who live two miles or more from their schools or who have applied for a bus rider pass. Each pass is for the exclusive use of the pupils to whom the passes are issued and is effective for the first semester, September 5th to January 25th.

Pupils must show the passes every day upon boarding the school buses, and replacement of lost passes will be $15 each.

—North Reading public schools have earned 21 pieces of computer equipment, thanks to parents, faculty and last year's Stop & Shop-Bradlees "Apples for Students" program.

The Batchelder School received 11 educational software programs and the E. Ethel Little School, nine; with North Reading Junior High receiving an ImageWriter II printer.

—Woburn's Goodyear School students are enjoying the United States map which was painted last spring onto their school parking lot by a group of enthusiastic, artistic teachers, students and parents.

—Reading High team athletes are now paying an $80 athletic fee, with a maximum of $320 per family per year. High school students are also paying a $15 activities fee for extra-curricular activities.

Reading's 3,400-plus students now pay $1.25 for a complete lunch, including milk while adults pay $2.50 plus tax. Milk is 30 cents, and the cost of ice cream has increased from 30 to 35 cents.

—Stoneham students are paying $1.25 for school lunches with staff paying $2. Milk now costs 30 cents.

And from October 15th through 19th, Superintendent of Schools Dr. William Hoyt will be out to lunch - at no cost to the town, thanks to a vote by his School Committee authorizing him to accept an assignment to chair the evaluation for accreditation of the International School of Belgrade, Yugoslavia.

of guided deep relaxations.

Classes are scheduled to start Tuesday, September 25, and to continue to meet for eight sessions each Tuesday from 11 a.m. to 12 noon. Babysitting is available. Call (617) 935-3270 for more information.

MOVIES

"Metropolitan", "Death Warrant"

by Rochelle Flynn

"Metropolitan" Starring Edward Clements, Christopher Eigeman, Carolyn Farina, Taylor Nichols. Written, directed and produced by Whit Stillman. Rated PG-13.

At one time or another each of us has been in a situation where we just didn't fit in. The charm of "Metropolitan" is that it revolves around an anemic group of youths who are so far removed from the mainstream they simply constructed their own little world. They've even given themselves a name, UHB, which stands for Upper Haute Bourgeoisie. These college-age darlings use their little moniker with complete seriousness, thus delighting an audience who is privy to the humor behind the pretense.

Manhattan's Upper East Side, the group encircles him as if he were so much fresh blood. Not only is he new and different, but he lives on the West Side, making him all the more exciting. Also, Tom helps to ease the girls' "escort shortage."

All the while protesting his association with such an elite group, Tom begins to fit in better than the rest of them. His mentor is Nick Smith (Christian Eigeman) a likable rogue who teaches Tom the rules, all the while breaking them himself. Tom sees these parties as a chance to be near a snooty, extremely popular girl who once stole his heart, never realizing that the less glamorous, more sincere Audrey (Carolyn Farina) harbors a gen-access to a parent's car and few options other than an expensive taxi ride.

Another plus is that Stillman never uses sarcasm or parody to belittle his talented cast of characters. These kids are no different than gang members handing out on some corner, trying to fit in. Only they use a Victorian game plan, outfitted with literature, clothing and manners, as their weapons. This strategy involves great wit, which is why Stillman's flick has been breaking box office records in New York art houses.

"Death Warrant" Starring Jean-Claude Van Damme, Robert Guillaume, Cynthia Gibb. Directed by Deran Sarafian.

or editing, you stop questioning about the details.

Once in the slammer, we're treated to blue lit scenes, bad art shots and a seemingly endless amount of water, as sprinklers keep breaking all over the place. Luckily, Robert Guillaume is introduced to the story as a savvy prisoner who is kinder than he'd like to admit. Otherwise, this flick is little more than an exercise in brutality and bad taste. The story is so easy to decipher, and so pathetically executed, that we can't even get excited about the gore, which is nothing if ugly and gratuitous. Also, anyone with a third grade education could figure out who is behind the serial killings.

Ironically, as dreadful as this flick is, one has to admit that Van Damme does have charisma. A decent script could really turn this guy into a household name. This low-life prison pic isn't it.

SHORT TAKES

Air America begins as a sharp satire of American involvement in Indochina during the late Sixties. An odd lot of burned-out airmen, including Mel Gibson and Robert Downey, Jr., pilot supplies and contraband all over Laos. About two-thirds of the way through the satire is replaced by righteous indignation, taking all the wind out of this flick's sails. Rated R.

M.E.'s for You

METROPOLITAN has charm and the cast members pictured above all contributed to a funny movie. They are (l to r) Fred (Bryan Leder), Jane (Allison Rutledge-Parisi), Nick (Christopher Eigeman), Tom (Edward Clements), Rick von Sloneker (Will Kempe), Audrey (Carolyn Farina), Sally Fowler (Dylan Hundley), Serena Slocum (Elizabeth Thompson), Cynthia (Isabel Gillies), and Charlie (Taylor Nichols).

Director Whit Stillman, who once did the deb scene, knows these people. They are the young and privileged who attend debutante balls during Christmas week, later gathering after hours parties in the home of the leader of the pack, Sally Fowler (Dylan Hundley).

They may be of the upper crust, but it is indeed a brittle veneer. Pretense and good manners mask both boredom and the insecurities which naturally accompany their age. When a chance encounter with a presentable young man lands Tom Townsend (Edward Clements) a chance into the inner circle of uine regard for Tom.

Though this film is subtle, director/writer Stillman has sewn his garden with many delights. He balances humor with a poignancy aimed at these kids' trappings. Yes, they are well armed with education and money, but they can no more function outside of their neighborhood than a farm gal could manage in the Big Apple. Stillman assumes his audience can read, but never pretends that reading is a substitute for living. Hence the film's enormous success. There is nothing funnier, or more touching, than watching Tom and his friend Charlie (Taylor Nichols) try to get out of the city. They have no license, no

Produced by Mark DiSalle. Written by David S. Goyer. Rated R.

A throbbing example of all that is ugly, "Death Warrant" is one of those truly atrocious films that aims to shock, and does so. Only the production values are so abysmally low that you aren't always sure of what you are seeing, or hearing.

Jean-Claude Van Damme plays Louis Burke, a Canadian cop who is called down to the States to work on an undercover assignment at a hell-hole of a prison. We all know that prisons are never particularly nice places, but this one has a serial killer offing the inmates with an ice pick. Or so it seems. There doesn't seem to be any lights in the place.

The law enforcement officials assume no one will know Burke, being that he's from Canada. In reality, martial arts expert Van Damme is Belgian and sounds more European than Canadian, but considering the casual attitude the filmmakers took toward reality, this is a minor point.

At first Burke has a hard time winning the confidence of his fellow prisoners. Understandable, considering that the muscle-bound newcomer is both articulate and more than a little green. We can't help but wonder why he was put into prison with so little information and only an inexperienced lawyer as his contact. But once you realize the movie jumps around with little regard for plot

Woodchips

ANTHONY MANCONI

I told my Aunt Nora from Wilmington that I intend to start this week's column with two riddles. "For your information," she said, "Woodchips has been a riddle to me for eight years. It's like the poems you write. Each one I read is 'verse and verse!'" With that compliment out of the way, I'll proceed. I have two U.S. coins in my hand that total 55 cents. One of the coins is not a nickel. What are they? A father and his son were in an automobile accident and unfortunately the father was killed. The son was rushed to the nearest hospital where a medical team, who had been alerted, was waiting for him. The boy was wheeled into the operating room where the surgeon looked at the lad then said, "I cannot operate, this is my son." The answer to both riddles are somewhere in Woodchips.

During the recent warm spell we've had, an emergency MDC radio bulletin turned out; for some, to be a false alarm. "Attention, all cars, investigate a complaint that there are numerous topless bathers in the vicinity of Kelly's on the Beach." Cars responding came from all directions including one from New Hampshire. The complaint was true but, unfortunately for George Hallett, Joe Leardo and Billy King, the topless bathers were men!

I asked George Gould, "George, what is the secret of your longevity?" (He is 92, folks.) George smiled and said, "I drink two glasses of water every night before I retire." "How in the world does that help a person to live longer?" "Anyone who does that," George replied, "will have to get up every morning!" I hate to criticize but after listening to some weather forecasters on radio or tv, I'm more confused than ever. So, my advice is this, "Never mind your maps and charts and funnel systems in other parts. Forget the pressure, high or low. Just tell us if the wind will blow and make it plain, will it be fair or will it rain? Just make it clear, yes or no!" The answer to the first riddle is, "The coin that is not a nickel is the 50 cent piece. The second riddle's answer is the surgeon is the boy's mother."

Personality Winners: Edward Carlson, Gary and Barbara Priest, Matthew Olette, Firefighters Bill Warnock and Ed O'Brien, all of North Reading; June McTaggart, Christine Dennis, Ellen Ricciardelli, MDC Officer Dick LaVerde, Elaine Maher, all of Stoneham; Gabriele Sutherland, Bill Conlon, Reggi and Auggie Bishop (Congratulations on your 50th wedding anniversary), Officer Joe Cormier and Donna McKenna, all of Tewksbury; Andrea Ausiello, Rev. Paul Millin, Kristine Przyjemski, Officer Robert

Roving from S-4

There was a breathy hesitation on the other end of the line, then finally David heard her say, "Yeah, he must've been talking about my divorce."

David wasn't convinced that that was all she wanted to say, but he was reluctant to prod her further.

She said, "There's more, but I don't want to talk about it now. I'll tell you later. O.K.?"

David had to be satisfied with that. He quickly opened the door to a new topic, which turned out to be Pauline's plans to attend cosmology school in the fall. After that, they made plans to meet at the end of David's shift later that week.

On the following night, prior to the start of his shift, to David's surprise, he discovered a dozen long-stemmed, red roses waiting for him at the restaurant. The card attached to them didn't identify the sender, but he was confident that they had come from Pauline. Their date later that week was becoming more attractive as time went on.

Pauline met David for their date. She was reluctant to admit that she had sent the flowers, but then finally gave in to David's prods. He told her how he had never received roses from a woman before. Pauline was visibly pleased that she had been the first to send them to him.

At the end of their first date, they made plans to see each other again. This time, they were to meet at the end of her next shift, at the bar inside the restaurant at which she worked.

David showed up at the restaurant early that night. He had planned to relax before Pauline got off from her shift. As soon as he sat down at the bar, he ordered and then asked the bartender if she would let Pauline know that he was there.

"Oh, Pauline's not here," the Shelley, Coach Jan Cassidy and Asst. Coach Steve Winston, all of Wilmington; His Honor Francis P. Cullen, Bernice Sullivan, Coach Rocky Nelson, Asst. Coach Neil Lusas, Dave MacInnes and Rev. Gerard Pteringa, all of Woburn; Mary Kramar, Debbie Juliano, Janice Frisoli, Abbie Culhane, Barbara Attardo and Debbie O'Brien, all of Winchester; John Daly, Joseph Croce, Don Young and Steve Harrington, all of Wakefield; Joseph Rubbico, Suzanne Geary, Joseph Bianchi and Peter and Donna Aloisi, of Lynnfield; Theresa Martin, Walter Arsenault and Janet Shaughnessy, all of Reading; John Hand, Olin Brown, Lee Preble, Walter Flaherty and Joseph and Peter Margi, all of Burlington.

You can believe it or not - Henry Ford, the builder of the Model T, forerunner of what today are some of the finest cars and trucks in the world, respected and admired a "lazy craftsman." Whenever a new model was to be built it was the lazy machinist who found the easiest and quickest way to do it. The "follow the leader" type, like sheep, never accomplished anything new. It's the renegade explorer who found new ways to do things - opened up new territories and discovered new horizons. Thomas Moore wrote "Tis the last rose of summer, left blooming alone. All her lovely companions are faded and gone." Well, summer is gone, winter draws on. I'm not ashamed to tell you that I wear them.

The school announced that one member of the class has chosen to do post-graduate work in a prep school, and that all others will attend college this fall.

My Aunt Nora just told me that I'm full of what make the grass grow green. I love and need Aunt Nora - she helps keep my ego on even keel. Mother Nature married Father Time and they had "four seasons."

Austin Prep grads off to college

As college and universities begin the school year, 99% of Austin Preparatory School's Class of 1990 will be in a college classroom.

Guidance Director James Stafford pointed out that two-thirds of the class have chosen private institutions, and that one-third will attend public colleges or universities. He was happy to announce that eight out of ten Austin graduates were accepted at their first or second choice college. Many Austin grads will attend local institutions of higher learning, with Merrimack College and the University of Massachusetts being popular choices. Among the other schools that Austin graduates will be attending this fall are: Harvard, Tufts, Boston College, Holy Cross, Brandeis, St. Anselm's, Rutgers, Seton Hall, Villanova and Hamilton.

bartender replied nonchalantly.

David's face suddenly became warm as anxiety rushed through his body. "What do you mean, she's not here? She's supposed to be working tonight, and I'm supposed to be meeting her when she finishes."

"You must be David," the bartender said, producing a piece of paper from her vest pocket and handing it to David. "Her mother came by earlier to pick her up. She told me to give you this, and to have you call her later tonight. That's all I know. Sorry."

David opened the note, and read it. Pauline's mother had written down her phone number, and requested that David call her, just as the bartender had instructed.

Filled with curiosity, David folded the note and stuck it inside his shirt pocket. He paid his bill and left, without so much as an inkling of the shocking news that was about to strike him in the head.

Local dancers perform to benefit Lung Association

Dancers from Career Life Fitness in Reading performed at the New England Patriots pre season game held on Friday, August 24. The half-time show featured 200 fitness professionals from the International Dance Exercise Association including aerobic dancers from Career Life Fitness Centers in Lowell and Reading.

The performers have raised thousands of dollars in the "Be Fit to Breathe" campaign to benefit the Norfolk County-Newton Lung Association's fight against lung cancer.

Career Life Fitness Center was appreciative of their members for their generous donations.

Two new questions will be asked of those getting married this fall. In the exchange of vows she will be asked, "Will you be tolerant as he watches golf tournaments and football and basketball games on tv?" He'll be asked, "Will you be cool, calm and collected when she goes to Beano twice a week, the hairdressers every Thursday and watches the soap operas every afternoon?" Kathy tells everyone that our marriage was for better or worse. I couldn't have done any better and she couldn't have done any worse. A question for Marilyn's column was "I guess I'm old fashioned but I can't, for the life of me, understand why men wear ear-rings." Marilyn answered, "I can't explain it. I haven't even figured out why women wear them."

Mary MacTavish was dutifully reading to her sick husband, Angus, by candle light. Later she said, "Angus-dear, I have a chore to do downstairs. If you feel yourself slipping away please blow out the candle." "Hello, Attorney Brown? I would like to change my will." "Anything you say, Mr. Johnson," the lawyer replied in a loud voice. "You don't have to shout. I have one of those new type hearing aids and I can hear a pin drop." "Oh, I'm glad to know that. Your relatives must be delighted that you can hear everything that's said." "They don't know about it yet - that's the reason I'm changing my will!" Fr. John Crispo said, "We are now going to recite the 23rd Psalm together. Will Bob Burns, who generally is in the 'green pastures' while most of us are 'by the still waters,' wait for the rest of us to catch up and we'll all go on together!"

A vacuum cleaner salesman rang Paul Rao's doorbell. "Good morning," he said to Paul, "I know that you need a new vacuum cleaner." Not seeing any crystal ball, Paul exclaimed, "How the heck do you know that?" The salesman smiled, then said, "The Woodchipper next door said that he has been borrowing yours for the last two years and it's about time that you bought a new one!" The worse thing about retirement is drinking coffee on your own time. Very often the highest compliments and richest rewards go to prominent administrators, renowned scientists or eloquent speakers. Seldom is credit given to the quiet educators who, through dedication, love and devotion to teaching, have molded character, integrity and moral strength in their students.

Super Star is Miss Eileen Sullivan who taught me the "poetry of words!"

Ireland Trade Festival at World Trade Center this weekend

The third annual Ireland Trade Festival, America's premier event featuring quality products and live Irish music direct from Ireland, north and south, opens Friday noon, September 21 at the World Trade Center. The festival runs from Friday through Sunday, September 23.

The event hosted by Boston Ireland Ventures, a local, nonprofit volunteer group working to encourage U.S. investment, will showcase a variety of Irish consumer products from knitwear and crystal to salmon, jewelry and high fashion clothing.

Taking center stage at this year's festival is one of Ireland's best known and respected international bands, DeDannan. Joining the musical festivities over the three-day trade festival is the Derry, (N.I.) Music Troupe with singer Maureen Hegarty, and the Boston chapter of Comhaltas Ceoltoiri Eireann with All-Ireland fiddling champions, Seamus Connelly and Brendan Bulger.

The unique aspect of this trade festival is that some 60 companies and agencies exhibiting at the World Trade Center come from both the Irish Republic and Northern Ireland. The Boston-Galway-Derry nexus was founded in 1987 by Mayor Flynn of Boston and John Hume, MP, MEP, of Derry and community leaders from Galway.

Among the Irish officials who will be on hand for the three-days in Boston, are: Galway Mayor Michael D. Higgins, Derry Mayor David Davis, Cork Mayor Frank Nash, John Hume of Derry, Eddie McGrady, MP of South Down in Northern Ireland, and Ireland's Minister of State for European Affairs, Maire Geoghegan-Quinn, a member of the Irish Parliament from Galway.

Along with the booths and the full three-day music programs, there will be free phone calls to Ireland and worldwide compliments of MCI Telecommunications, fashion shows daily, and a free drawing for two to Ireland (land/Sea) courtesy of Aer Lingus and the Irish Tourist Board.

Friday noon, September 21: World Trade Center - Mayor Flynn and the Irish mayors will officially open the festival.

Festival Hours: Friday, noon to 10 p.m.; Saturday, 11 a.m. to 8 p.m.; Sunday, 12 noon to 7 p.m.

Admission is $5 for adults, $2 for seniors and children (under 12) are free.

Art Auction to benefit "Our Place"

The public is cordially invited to attend an Art Exhibition and Auction to be held the evening of September 21. Sponsored by Our Place - Multi-Service Educational Learning and Development Center, the auction will take place at the Unitarian Church on 53

Central Street, Stoneham, and proceeds will benefit Our Place children's programs. The evening will begin at 7 p.m. when guests can preview the art works and enjoy hors d'oeuvres. An ensemble of string and brass will provide musical background. The auction will start promptly at 8 p.m. Tickets may be purchased in advance for $5 by calling (617) 438-2595 or (617) 438-8800, or admission may be paid at the door.

The art collection will feature signed and numbered original lithographs, serigraphs and etchings, as well as original oil paintings, watercolors, silk screens, and sculpture. Works by Rockwell, Neiman, Boulanger, Calder, Delacroix, Agam, Dali, Chagall, Miro and Moses will be included as well as the exciting works of lesser known artists. Each piece of art is beautifully framed and matted.

Our Place, M.E.L.D., Inc. is a non-profit agency founded in 1974 and dedicated to addressing the social, educational and enrichment needs of individuals and families in Stoneham. Its current activity is the After Hours after-school enrichment program which is beginning its third year this fall, and its next major objective is to establish a center for afterschool care for children Mondays through Fridays.

Can you keep that weight off?

Fact: Ninety percent of dieters who lose 25 pounds or more in a weight loss regimen regain all the weight within two years.

Fact: Dieters who lose weight rapidly are three times more likely to regain it than those who take pounds off more slowly.

Fact: The diet industry is a $33 billion a year moneymaker.

The statistics, from recent articles in The Boston Globe and Newsweek, reveal the dieter's dilemma. How can a person take off 10, 20, or even 50 pounds, and keep it off? If commercial diet programs don't work in the long run (and cost too much in the short run), what's a person to do?

Dr. Judith Goldberg, a Winchester psychologist who offers classes called the Anti-Diet Weight Loss Program, suggests an answer: "You need to change the way you think about food to get off the yo-yo diet merry-go-round. But diet programs, where you're either 'dieting' or 'cheating,' unknowingly perpetuate self-defeating thinking." Dr. Goldberg points out that many overeaters use food as a reward, a crutch, a source of consolation or a spare time activity when bored. Naturally thin people, on the other hand, eat to satisfy their hunger. They don't "diet" and they don't "cheat."

"People who overeat tend to be people who deprive themselves in many areas of their lives. Food becomes a reward, a relief. Going on a diet adds food deprivation to all the other burdens. People like this often do well while they are on the diet, but when they go off it they end up making up for the deprivation and regaining the weight."

Dr. Goldberg continues, "The Anti-Diet Weight Loss Program works on the opposite principle from diets. We make sure there is no food deprivation first, and then we do a variety of activities through which students learn to recognize when they are genuinely hungry for food and when they are using eating for some other purpose."

"By the time they leave the program," Dr. Goldberg said, "they are in control of food. It has no more power over them."

The 10-week course begins during the first week of October. A two-hour preview is offered prior to each course to explain the program fully. Previews will take place on Wednesday, September 26 at 4 p.m. and 7 p.m. and on Thursday, September 27 at 9 a.m. Reservations for the preview can be made by calling (617) 721-0663. There is a $10 fee and space is limited.

Easy as apple pie

Q: How can I get my apple pie to have a juicy, cooked apple center with thoroughly cooked top and bottom crusts?

A: Start with tart, firm juicy apples as Empire, Granny Smith, Rhode Island Greening, Newtown Pippin, or York Imperial. Use a recipe that calls for a small amount of flour (1/4 cup flour per six medium apples or two pounds for a 9-inch pie). Finally, bake the pie in a dull metal or heat-resistant glass pan to increase the amount of heat absorbed and cause even browning. Bake in a moderately hot oven (400 or 425 degrees F) to set filling and brown both crusts.

Anti-Diet Weight Loss The New Alternative

SUFFERING IS OPTIONAL.

If you have tried dieting in the past and failed, you are not alone. For many, diet is part of the problem, not its solution. Thin people don't want to eat more than they should. So how come you do? When you learn to think about food the way thin people do, then you will eat casually and controllably, just as they do.

Based on successful work with overeaters in therapy, this unique, ten-week program was developed to help healthy people to finally control their eating without the need for discipline and the constant struggle against temptation.

WHY WAIT?

This small-class experience is not another diet or food supplement program, but a new opportunity for a permanent change in your relationship with food and your body. You can be happy with both, now.

PREVIEW: To give you a full description of this effective solution to over-eating, we offer a full, two-hour preview at our offices. Admission is $10. Call early to reserve your place, as seating is extremely limited.

—An Arts & Entertainment Update—

JAZZ BAND TO APPEAR IN MELROSE

The sounds of New Orleans Jazz will fill Memorial Hall, 590 Main Street, on Friday, September 21 at 8 p.m. as the Melrose Symphony Orchestra presents the New Black Eagle Jazz Band in concert.

The seven-member ensemble is noted for its exuberant rendition of New Orleans jazz classics by the likes of King Oliver, Louis Armstrong and Jelly Roll Morton, as well as less famous music of the era.

The band is also known for its interpretation of the music of Fats Waller and Duke Ellington.

The Black Eagles have appeared with the Baltimore Symphony, the Boston Pops and at jazz festivals in this country and in Europe. They have also made more than three dozen recordings.

Tickets for the concert are $10 and table seating, Pops style, is available for another $2 per person. Tickets may be ordered and tables reserved by calling MSO President Millie Rich at (617) 662-0641.

"JESUS CHRIST SUPERSTAR" AT WANG CENTER

The 20th Anniversary Production of Andrew Lloyd Webber's Jesus Christ Superstar will be on stage at Boston's Wang Center for the Performing Arts for one week only October 2-7.

This remarkable "rock opera" signalled the rise to international fame and recognition of one of the most popular and successful musical artists of a generation. After launching Superstar, Webber went on to such projects as Evita (written, like Superstar, in collaboration with Tim Rice), Cats and The Phantom of the Opera.

The 20th Anniversary production of Jesus Christ Superstar features Stephen Lehou in the title role.

Patrick Jude, who appeared as Judas on Broadway in the original production of Superstar revives his role.

Jesus Christ Superstar, at the Wang Center for the Performing Arts, October 207. Tickets on sale by phone at Ticketmaster at (617) 931-2000 or at the Wang Center Box Office.

"CHOWDA" FEST IN CHARLESTOWN

Chowder aficionados will want to mark their calendars for Sunday, September 23, for the eighth annual Bud Light "Chowda" fest for Horizons For Youth. The event will take place from 12 noon to 6 p.m. at the Charlestown Navy Yard and is held in conjunction with Harborpark Day.

Restaurants from throughout eastern Massachusetts will be taking their best chowder recipes out of hiding as they compete for the first place "Chowda Champ" title. During the day people will go from booth to booth, tasting the different chowders, and will then vote for their favorite. The food establishment with the most votes wins first prize.

Admission is $6 for adults; $3 for children under 12 and senior citizens. Proceeds go to Horizons For Youth, a nonprofit organization that provides environmental education and camping programs for children in need.

For more information call (617) 828-7550.

THIRD ANNUAL "FLOATING REGATTA"

New England Medical Center's Floating Hospital for Infants and Children's third annual "Floating Regatta" is coming up Saturday and Sunday, September 22 and 23. This highly competitive and thrillingly visual speed sailing event takes place on Boston Harbor, beginning at Rowes Wharf, from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. on both days.

World famous sailors will be riding Formula 40s, forty-foot long colorful catamarans that are extremely fast and light, as well as other multi-hulled classes. Five races will be held, three on Saturday, and two on Sunday.

On-water viewing is available on The Majestic, a 250-passenger ferry, with children's games and entertainment on board. Public viewing of all the participating boats before and after the races will be at Flagship Wharf in the Charlestown Navy Yard.

For spectator boats reservations and information about other regatta activities, call Regatta Headquarters at (617) 956-7656. All proceeds go to benefit the Floating Hospital.

Music concert scheduled at Saint Florence's in Wakefield

David Haas

Jeanne Cotter

David Haas and Jeanne Cotter, talented husband and wife musicians, composers and arrangers, will be in concert at St. Florence Parish, 47 Butler Ave., Wakefield on Friday evening, September 21, at 7:30 p.m.

David is a guitarist and pianist and his music makes up most of the selections in the music issue hymnal used at the Masses at St. Florence Church - either his own or in collaboration with Marty Haugen or Michael Jonas. David is presently composer in residence at St. Thomas the Apostle Church in Minneapolis. In addition, he is very active in music and liturgical ministry as a cantor, pianist, guitarist, choir director, concert performer, teacher and workshop leader, recording artist and composer of music for worship. Jeanne Cotter, David's wife, is an accomplished classical pianist who also collaborates with him in writing music as well as publishing her own compositions. She is very active as a musician throughout the twin city area, and as a liturgical musician, composer, cantor and arranger throughout the United States and Canada.

Their concerts are always a delight. Tickets are $10 and are available at the St. Florence rectory and at the door the evening of the concert. David and Jeanne's music on tapes, compact discs and in music books may also be purchased at the concert.
